New York, Sept. 29.—Glenn H. Cur-

that during his flights at the Hudson-Fulton celebration he would encircle the Statue of Liberty, but today Wilbur Wright beat him to it, though his flight was only a preliminary tryout and not a part of the official program.
Both the aviators had short trials this morning, but as they were unannounced the crowd that saw them was comparatively small.

Just as the sky line of New York city became dimly visible above the haze which hung over the harbor,
Glenn H. Curtiss, winner of the Gordon Bennett cup at Rheims, France, successfully tried out the aeroplane which he will use in his flights during the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

Mr. Curtiss remained at Governor's his preparations to test the new machine.

After giving it a preliminary run over killed. His head was crushed, a leg cut off and the body horribly mangled.

Maki and a companion had been drink-

Washington, Sept. 29.—"It was not a temperance parade, but a demonstration in favor of good government and law and order, and I should have been deterred in my duty if I had not, when requested, headed the parade as I did, and I shall continue until prohibited to do the same thing whenever I deem it

This is the substance of a statement made by Gen. Frederick D. Grant today in answer to a letter sent by W.
H. Michaelis of Chicago, a member of the executive board of the United Societies for Local Self Government.
The letter, which was addressed to the secretary of war, criticized Gen. Grant for having appeared in full uniform in a so-called temperance parade in that city last Saturday.

Gen. Grant added that there was no law, written or unwritten, or regula-

It was expected that Governor Ebertake charge of the John A. Johnson memorial movement, on behalf of the state. Immediately upon acceptance, the committee will meet and organize, and probably appoint an executive committee to assume the actual man-of the memorial, and attend to such detail as may be necessary, and will take final action when the time arrives, on the whole subject. Secre-

DULUTH MAN SECRETARY

Charles S. Mitchell May Serve
With Governor A. O.
Eberhart.

Position Has Been Offered and It Is Expected He Will Accept.

Charles S. Mitchell, editorial writer of the News Tribune, will probably be private secretary to Governor A. O.
Eberhart. Mr. Mitchell has been offered the position and he will very likely accept. He had a conference yesterday with Robert C. Dunn of Princeton, whose private secretary he was to have been if Mr. Dunn had been elected in 1904, and he proceeded to St. Paul today to confer with Governor Eberhart.
Should Mr. Mitchell by any chance decline the offer, it is said Ralph W.
Whelock of Minneapolis, former secretary to Mayor D. F. Jones, will be offered the position.

A conference of Republican leaders was held at the Merchants hotel in St.
Paul last Thursday evening, after which the offer was made to Mr. Mitchell. As part of the program outlined at the conference, Harvey Grimmer, executive clerk to Governor Johnson, is to remain permanently in that position.
The St. Paul conference was secret and its results were closely guarded until yesterday. Among those who are said to have been present are Governor Eberhart, Lieutenant Governor E. E.
Smith and Har Reese of St. Paul. Although the competency of the men declined on an eye to its political effects, Mr.
Whelock is said to have been the first choice of some of the men present, but it was finally decided that the selection of Mr. Mitchell would be the wisest.
The retention of Mr. Grimmer as executive clerk is expected to bring some of the support that was behind Governor Johnson to the Eberhart administration, and it is expected to assert influence when Governor Eberwork will entail great suffering on the 60,000 men still idle.

WINE PRICES CUT SQUARELY IN TWO

War of Trust and Independ-

Products Still Lower.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 29.—Because of a general price-cutting war that is being waged among whole-salers throughout the country, prices of California wines have been cut in half and there is a prospect of still lower levels.

California port, which two months ago, before the war began, sold at 37 1/2 cents a gallon, is today offered in the open market at 15 to 16 cents a gallon, and California claret, which formerly brought 25 cents a gallon, brings now 15 cents. The fight is being carried on by the alleged wine trust of California and the so-called independent dealers. Each faction alleges that the other began the cutting of prices.

First M. E. Church.

Rev. Robert Forbes Presides

By Dr. Lathrop.

Rev. C. R. Oaten Is Elected
Secretary and J. T. B.
Smith Treasurer.

The fifteenth annual session of the Northern Minnesota Methodist conference, which is meeting this year in Duluth, opened this morning at the First Methodist church. Rev. Noah Lathrop delivered the semi-centennial conference sermon.

In view of the fact that Bishop Robert McIntyre was unable to be present at the opening session, Rev. Robert Forbes of Philadelphia presided, at the request of the bishop.

When the conference assembled at 10 o'clock this morning it was found that the attendance was larger than ever before. There were fully 200 delegates from outlying towns, each one representing a church. Besides the large number of delegates present, the home people are taking a great interest in the proceedings, and the audium of the big church was well filled.

Rev. Oaten Secretary.
Directly after the sermon by Dr.
Lathrop, officers were elected. Rev.
C. R. Oaten, pastor of the Lester Park church, was elected secretary and the men elected to assist him in the work for the coming year are: Rev. W. B. J.
Gratz of Two Harbors, D. M. McKenzie of Minneapolis, Rev. Thomas Grice of Duluth, Rev. C. W. Hamshaw of Duluth and Rev. W. H. Easton of Monticello.

Rev. J. B. Smith of Sauk Center

Riverhead, L. I., Sept. 29.—Herbert

Bates died a short time after the accident.

The accident occurred during the early part of the race, while Lytle and Bates, driving an Aspierson car, were rounding a curve on the first lap of the course, near the town of Riverhead.
The racing automobile was going near-

SOME LITTLE ITEMS IN THE COST OF LIVING OF BRITISH WORKMEN

Written for The Evening Herald by Zach McChesney.
(Copyright 1909, by Zach McChesney.)
Edinburgh, Scotland, Sept. 12.—The landlady came in—no, here, but while I was sitting in Dr. Sam Johnson's chair—to light the gas, and we found the Weiskach mantle gone.
"How much do you have to pay for a mantle?" I asked.
"The best ones cost me 4 pence (8 cents)," she replied. "Of course, I can get one for a penny, but they are not very good."
The mantle she gets for 8 cents is of the grade, generally speaking, of the kind I have bought in various American towns for 25 and 30 cents.
There are some mantles in some of the 5 and 10-cent stores and places like these in Washington, for instance, for 10 cents. These are the sort that are retailed for a penny (2 cents) here.
There are some very superior mantles here which are sold for 6 pence (12 cents). In America, the same quality costs 25 and 40 cents.
There is in our new tariff law a sort of "stop ladder" duty on mantles and the materials of which they are made.
Beginning at 40 per cent on the wholesale price in America, and going up, besides this, of course, every man in America has to pay a "protection" tax on practically everything he uses, including rent, so that the user pays several times for a mantle for his gas light. The way many people here buy their mantles is a shilling (a little less than a quarter) a dozen. I have examined these, and they are better mantles than those I have paid 15 cents for in Washington.
Gas 75 Cents a Thousand.
A very much larger proportion of the people in these British towns use gas and electricity for lighting than in American cities. They can afford it. The gas in Edinburgh is the most expensive of any place I have been to here which are sold for 6 pence (12 cents). In America, the same quality costs 25 and 40 cents.

SAYS POTATO
CROP IS GOODJ. Adam Bede Talks Farming and Harbor Im-

J. Adam Bede blew into Duluth this morning from Pine City, and reported a good potato crop.

Mr. Bede had a copy of last Saturday's Herald stuffed in his coat pocket, and stated that he was much interested in the plan suggested by John Ryan of Calverton, Texas, for the improvement of the Duluth harbor, and the building of tunnels under the two canals.

"It isn't such a pipe dream as many people will imagine," said Mr. Bede. "I believe the time will come when you will see Park Point used for railroad yards and commercial houses. The harbor has also got to be improved. The plan of building the breakwater or retaining wall along the harbor line and dilling in with the dredges from the harbor, seems quite feasible to me. It is of course, somewhat in the future, but it is not an air castle by any means."

Mr. Bede wasn't talking politics.

WILL MAKE WEEKLY TRIPS
Steamer Hilton on South
Shore Run for Duluth Jobbers.

The steamer Hilton came in from the south shore this morning, and will clear for Ontonagon, Mich., tonight with a load of freight for south shore points.

This steamer has been secured by Duluth jobbers for the south shore run, and if the experiment proves a success, and enough freight can be secured, the boat will make weekly runs until navigation closes. Since the Booth line boats were pulled out of the south shore run, the towns along the south shore have been shut off from Duluth connections by water, much to the inconvenience of Duluth jobbers, and they combined to secure the steamer Hilton.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 29.—The Japanese commercial travelers who are making a tour of the United States arrived here today aboard their special train, and were welcomed by Mayor George E. Ellis and President Herbert Knott of the board of trade. The commissioners also were greeted by the American ambassador, to Japan, Thomas J. After an informal reception at the board of trade rooms, the commissioners were taken on an automobile tour embracing some of the Grand Rapids sights. Later the visitors were taken to the Kent Country club for luncheon, with Ambassador O'Brien at the head of the table.

A second automobile trip was held this afternoon and a banquet was given for the evening at which Senator Alden Smith will be toastmaster.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific road and director of the Soo, will be in Minnesota this week on business, and it is expected that he will visit Duluth. It is probable that matters relating to the transfer of terminal property in Minneapolis formerly owned by the Wisconsin Central and now a part of the Soo terminals, the Great Western, and the Chicago & North Western, will be taken up at Minneapolis. It is possible that Sir William C. Van Horne and R. B. Angus of Montreal, who are directors of the Canadian Pacific and the Soo, will also come.

Edmund Pennington, president of the Soo, is in Winnipeg, and will meet Sir Thomas Shaughnessy there. They will inspect the new Broomfield-Duluth extension of the Soo, that is now open to Duluth for freight, but over which the passenger business has not yet been started.

They will also look over the western end, as far as is practicable, of the Thief River Falls to Duluth line, on which construction work will be pushed out at the rate of one mile a week. It is to make a new Chicago to Winnipeg line.

on Conviction Very Severe.

Frank Salandun, a cook at Proctor, who is claimed to have eloped with 14-year-old Ophelia Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts of Proctor, taking the girl to Minneapolis, was located yesterday by the Proctor police at Minneapolis. He was brought back to Proctor and lodged last night at the West Duluth police station. Today he was arraigned before Judge N. S. Dockstader and bound over to the grand jury. He was taken to the county jail.

It was Sept. 9, when the Roberts girl was first missed from her home. The Proctor police started a search for her at once and the Duluth police also searched the city but found no trace of her. It was not until yesterday that Salandun, who had been paying some attention to the girl, was also missing and then the attention of the authorities was turned toward locating him.

Henry Roberts, the father of the missing girl, made a special trip to Minneapolis last week and with the aid of the Minneapolis authorities finally located the missing pair in a Minneapolis hotel. They were registered as brother and sister and were living together. Salandun was held by the Minneapolis police and Officer Police Murray of Proctor who brought him back to the head of the Lakes yesterday. The girl went back home with her father.

The offense for which Salandun is held is a serious one. In view of the fact that the girl was under the age of 18 years, it would be considered kidnapping in the eyes of the law and the penalty for this offense is imprisonment for not less than ten years and not more than forty years.

The law reads that "every person who shall wilfully take, take or entice or detain a child under the age of 18 years from his parents, guardian or other persons having lawful care or control of him, shall be guilty of kidnapping and punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than forty years."

The girl was in Minneapolis ten days before the pair were located. Salandun is a man of a very small stature and is said to have been married once although his wife is dead.

Destitute.

After lingering between life and death for two weeks, and being conscious for only three days of that time, Peter Pikkarranen, 54 years old, of 6004 Grand avenue, who was struck on Sept. 13 by the gasoline motor car of the Northern Pacific, died at 2 o'clock this morning at the Duluth hospital.

He was the man who attempted to cross the tracks at Fifty-sixth avenue west by going through a slowly moving freight train. Just as he jumped through the gasoline motor car struck him and knocked him back under the wheels of the train.

Picked up for dead, he was afterwards rushed to the Duluth hospital. For nearly a week he lay unconscious. Then he rallied, but yesterday he sank back into unconsciousness, and early yesterday afternoon, when he went into a state of coma, his death was expected. Funeral arrangements have not as yet been made.

By the death of Pikkarranen, the family of a wife and seven children is left in hard circumstances. At the time of the accident the condition of the family was reported in The Herald and many kind neighbors and friends of the family helped them out by contributions.

Unless help is provided, they cannot meet the payments for their little son. They have a few supplies left for the winter. The oldest of the family is a girl, 14 years old, and she brings in the only revenue, something like 60 cents a day, which she earns at a downtown laundry.

Thinks Husband Insane.
Mrs. George W. Messer of 5508 Raleigh street complained to the West Duluth police last evening of the peculiar behavior of her husband. She wanted the police to take him in charge as it was feared that he was insane. The police advised the woman to have the man brought into probate court and examined.

SAYS JAPAN HAS SHUT OPEN DOORWashington to Protest Against Terms of Agreement Over Manchuria.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—A special dispatch from Washington to the Associated Press declared that the American government will soon file an official protest against the recently concluded convention between Japan and China regarding Japan's mining monopoly in Manchuria.

The dispatch maintains further that America desires to procure an interest in the Japanese concession in Manchuria to consult Washington on the matter as a breach of good faith.

The dispatch declares that the Manchurian convention is regarded as a direct violation of the "open door" policy, to which Japan was pledged.

"Correct Dress for Women"

Though Formal Display Days Are Over, Yet,

Every Day is Display Day With Us—And Selling Day as Well.

For such a collection of Women's and Girls' Wear was never before brought together under a Duluth mercantile roof—and never have we entered a season in which the fashioning fabrics and colorings were more fascinating! Women in quest of something entirely distinctive, will easily find here garments that at once rest the eye.

Coats, especially, are more distinctive than usual, by the strikingly handsome "lines" and the deft finishing touches, such as the long rolling revers broad collar effects and smart touches of plaiting that unexpectedly present themselves here and there.

While the showing in all classes of garments has been greatly extended by the enlarged space of the newer Gidding store, yet the one class of garments that has been allowed the greatest expansion is the popular "medium-priced" branch of women's wear. Coats, suits and dresses at, say, $25.00 to $50.00.

Tailored Suits of Homespun, Wales, Diagonals, Serges, Broadcloths and Worsteds at $25.00, $29.50, $32.50, $35.00, $39.50 and up.

Practical Street Coats in fine Broadcloths and the new heavy weaves—$15.00, $19.50, $25.00, to $50.00.

Walking Dresses of Cloth or Silk—$19.50 to $50.00.

Smart Hats for "Street," "Semi-Dress" and "Occasion" Wear

Distinguishing styles in individual adaptations of the new Carlier and Russian turban effect, as well as medium and large shapes of artistic outline—they are the cleverest hats that have ever been assembled in this city—that is a strong statement, but you will appreciate its truth if you come and see them.

The Gidding Corner.—First Ave. West and Superior St.

gates representing a membership of 2,500,000 in thirty-four states will participate. The National German day will be celebrated in Music hall on Sunday, Oct. 3, when the German delegates of Philadelphia, is president of the association.

STRIKERS WILLING TO WAIVE UNION
Omaha Car Officials Refuse to Consent to Truce in the Dispute.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 29.—The governors of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, whose annual festival began here today, held a conference with President Wattles of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company to urge the necessity of a settlement of the strike and betterment of the service during the two weeks of the carnival. The Ak-Sar-Ben society includes practically every prominent man in the city.

President Wattles was informed that the strikers would waive the union and return to work, provided the company would arbitrate the questions at issue.

At the meeting, President Wattles declared that his company would not agree to the proposed truce and subsequent arbitration. He assured his visitors, however, that the car service would be ample to care for the festival crowds.

GOOD WEATHER FOR FAIR AT LA CROSSE.
La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 29.—Favorable weather today greeted the thousands of fairgoers at the annual exposition of the resources of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa, which opened here yesterday afternoon with a large attendance. Today excursions are being run from all directions on five railways, bringing in many thousands from the three states. An attendance of 20,000 is expected today and still more tomorrow.

If one man has any real business with another—and they are utter strangers—the task of introducing them to each other is "want ad work" of the every day kind.

Workman Asks $5,100 in Suit Against MacLeod & Smith.

For a thumb and forefinger, which he had to have amputated, leaving a maimed and disfigured hand, John Johnson wants $5,100 from MacLeod & Smith, the Duluth contracting firm. Suit for that amount was filed by Johnson in district court this morning.

Johnson's injuries are alleged to have been sustained July 12 of this year at the site of the Holland hotel, on the corner of Fifth avenue west and Superior street. MacLeod & Smith were excavating at the site of the new building. A derrick was used in the work, dirt being hoisted from the bottom of the excavation about twenty feet below the level of the alley and then dumped into wagons.

Johnson was employed as a common laborer and had been digging. On the day of the accident, he says, he was sent to the rear of the lot to dump buckets. The buckets were not provided with a rope or any other device, he says, so that he might hold them without danger of his hand being caught between the bale and the edge of the bucket. This he did, and was caught thus, he says, and badly crushed, so that he had to have the thumb and forefinger amputated, and his earning capacity is now impaired on account of the injury.

Chris Bjelos Sues Iron Company for Amount of Settlement.

The case of Chris Bjelos against the Cleveland Iron company, the last civil jury case on the calendar for the September term of court, was called for trial before Judge Dibel in district court this morning.

The suit grows out of an alleged settlement of a personal injury claim between Bjelos and the company. Bjelos brought suit about a year ago for $10,500 for injuries he claimed to have received on account of a premature blast in the Crosby mine at Nashua. After the suit had gone to the United States court and had been remanded to the district court, it was said that a settlement was reached.

Now, the attorneys for the plaintiff allege, the company has failed to live up to the settlement agreement and the suit now on trial is for the sum of $400, which they claim to be due under the settlement.

RIOT CASE BEING HEARD

Demonstration Following the Church Dedication Is Being Probed.

Three Women and Man Charged With Inciting a Riot.

The trials of three women and one man, charged with having incited the riot on Sunday, Sept. 12, when Rev. A. Ryceck was attacked with eggs and vegetables after conducting religious services for the so-called "insurgents," started this morning in police court before Judge Windom.

The complaint does not charge the defendants with having struck or injured Rev. Ryceck, but with having participated in and incited a riot, disturbing the peace, and used improper language. The priest was not present in court. The people on trial are Frances Jakubowski, Mary Mendyk, Stans Walszak and Josie Konczak.

The trouble, which culminated in the riot, started long before, when part of the Polish people organized an independent church. Feeling between the members of the mother church and the independents has been bitter ever since. The evidence introduced this morning did not show that any eggs or vegetables had struck Rev. Ryceck after leaving the church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Fifth street, but that such missiles had been hurled at his carriage as he was leaving. It appears that some of the women in the crowd chased the carriage with hen and garden products, for a considerable distance. The case was continued this afternoon.

TAFT IS DUE AT SEATTLE EXPO

Spends Part of the Day in and About North Yakima.

North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 29.—Arriving here at 5 a. m. today President Taft spent until 5 p. m. in the city, and then left for the exposition at 1:30 p. m. by the train with Governor Marion E. Hay and Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington. The president was pretty well exhausted after his hard day yesterday in Spokane, where he was called upon to make a half dozen speeches.

Mr. Taft was in excellent spirits this morning when he stepped off the train and entered the leading automobile of the procession to the exposition. He was through the famous apple orchards of the region.

The president's arrival was coincident with the fall of the first rain in many months. The president had ceased before he awoke, and did not intend to interfere with the program arranged for his visit here.

Mr. Taft was in excellent spirits this morning when he stepped off the train and entered the leading automobile of the procession to the exposition. He was through the famous apple orchards of the region.

Arriving in Seattle tonight President Taft will be met at the station by the Interior and Mrs. Ballinger at an informal reception. The president will spend the night at the hotel and will leave for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition tomorrow.

It will be necessary to amputate. The accident occurred on the sleeper between here and Rhineclander. As Beckwith had no revolver of his own it is presumed he was inspecting a revolver of a fellow passenger, when it was discharged accidentally. He will be cared for at Chicago and proceed on his way to school.

Oklahoma Puts Guaranty Provision to Work to Pay Depositors.

Trust Company Is Taken Over By Examiner—Has $3,000,000 to Pay.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 29.—State Bank Commissioner Young, who yesterday took charge of the Columbia Bank & Trust company of this city, with deposits aggregating $3,000,000, began today paying the depositors dollar for dollar. It was announced that payments would be continued until all depositors were satisfied.

During a recent examination Young found securities he pronounced unsafe. Capital is impaired.

Sufficient is shown to know that the capital is impaired so that on liquidation the stockholders may realize very little on their investments. The bank guaranty fund, together with the available assets of the bank, will be used in settlement of the claims. No alarm has been occasioned here regarding the failure. Officials of the liquidated bank say they will re-open in a few days, possibly under a new organization.

Roy Oakes, secretary of the banking board, said:

"The bank guaranty fund, together with the available assets of the bank, will be used in settlement of the claims. No alarm has been occasioned here regarding the failure. Officials of the liquidated bank say they will re-open in a few days, possibly under a new organization."

Fifty thousand dollars of the bank's guarantee fund amounted to $302,500. The board has levied an additional assessment on the state banks to replenish the guarantee fund.

The last statement of the bank showed deposits of $2,000,000; capital stock, $200,000, and 40 per cent in reserve and surplus, and undivided profits amounting to $20,000. The bank was organized about a year ago. It was the reserve agency for many of the state banks of Oklahoma.

Many Women View Gidding Styles.

That the Gidding opening, which took place yesterday and today, has been a fashion show much appreciated by fashion lovers of the city, was attested by the large number of enthusiastic women that visited the store during the two days. The exclusive character of Gidding styles, together with richness of materials and exactness of detail are things appreciated by the women of the city. Gidding styles, which specializes in the better grades of garments, is this year expending special effort upon the medium-priced lines, and their intimate connections and influence with houses of high standing in the tailor-made world is enabling them to place before the women a selection of garments at moderate prices than can usually be had.

He asks $100 rental for the land, $250 for damages done, $75 for 25,000 feet of timber cut and $100 for 2,000 feet of cedar posts he claims were burned on the account of the negligence of the company.

HYGIENIC DRESS FOR WOMEN.

Youth's Companion: On the subject of hygienic attire for women there has always been a great deal of honest nonsense talked, and much misapprehension taken for the reason that a great number of people have the type of mind that irresistibly associates the ugly with the healthy and the nauseous with the wholesome.

Just as they think medicine cannot be efficacious unless it is thick and black and nasty, so they think women cannot breathe and prosper unless they look like a blue line in a white field, die hoop cut, and in pursuance of this conviction they refuse many of the advantages of life, among which are:

ar-coated pills and well made corsets should take high rank.

When looking at the portraits of the Spanish scholars of which Velasquez is master, one is constantly struck by the way the women seem to be confined in some historic instrument of torture, so flat are their chests and so narrow and thin the uncomfortable looking drawn down waists. Surely no material less than steel might be trusted to produce this invariable effect in women of all ages and degrees.

Now turn from these women of medieval days to a modern picture gallery and observe the freedom, the individuality, the graceful ease which permits herself and is permitted by modern sanctions. Indeed it is not necessary to contrast her with the woman of the Middle Ages. She is so much more comfortable and sensible in her dress than was her grandmother or even her mother.

This fact is largely the result of the general acceptance of athletics for women. With the invasion of the up-to-date girl of the tennis court, the golf course and the lakes and rivers, the seventeen-inch damsel who seemed to spend a large portion of her time in trouble for the reason that a fainting spell vanished, one may hope forever.

It is possible to knock a croquet ball about in tight clothes, but for a game like tennis, that calls for real play of muscle and free action from head to foot, one must be properly dressed.

So much has been done of late years to improve the corset that its reproach as a nuisance to health has in fact been wiped out. The best corsets no longer interfere with the breathing apparatus and many modern corsets leave the diaphragm free and support and restrain as they should.

With their help and provided that skirts are not too heavy and dragging from the hips women are often better off with corsets than without them.

ETIQUETTE.

The late George W. Harvey, Washington's noted caterer, was an admirable officer for dinner speaker. A Washington correspondent recalled the other day a press banquet that Mr. Harvey once attended.

"He gave," said the correspondent, "some funny advice to the woman's page editors present. He suggested that they brighten up the etiquette department by the introduction of really interesting rules of etiquette."

"Then he rattled off a lot of rules like this:

"Never wear automobile goggles when riding on an electric car. Our best people consider it pretentious."

"If some one accidentally treads on your heel and says: 'I beg your pardon,' make no reply. If you would be thought a true gentleman, simply scowl and pass on."

"A gentleman should never allow a lady to pay for anything. This, of course, does not refer to the titled husband of an American heiress."

"Never try to alight from a lady's train when in motion."

"If you are a golfer and have had luck, say: 'Deary, deary me!'"

WRIGHT CIRCLES BIG STATUE WITH HIS AEROPLANE

turned the machine with head toward the west, from which direction the wind was blowing at the rate of five or six miles an hour.

Long Run to Start.
On account of the resistance offered by the soft sand, Mr. Curtis found it necessary to run the machine for a greater distance than usual to get the required initial impetus. Driving on an even keel in short undulations, he rose to a height of about thirty feet. Tipping his wings tips and swinging his rudder to the left, Mr. Curtis turned his machine toward the south.

As he reached a position at right angles to the wind, the aeroplane was tilted somewhat from an even position to the left. Mr. Curtis responded quickly to Mr. Curtis' control, and again flying on an even keel, continued turning until a semi-circle had been described. Curtis then brought the aeroplane to the south and, although landing on a log that lay in his path, the machine alighted safely.

Satisfied with the result of his early sideway trial, Mr. Curtis with the aid of his assistant, guided the machine under its own motive power back to the shed in which it was housed.

Got "First Blood."
"First blood," Curtis as one of those who witnessed the flight, expressed his opinion of the "run well," he added, "but it required a longer start on the ground than I usually have to make. The machine rides smoothly, and I am well satisfied with it."

As a result of his test Mr. Curtis may replace his propeller with another that he has built at his Hammond factory. Before leaving the shed to get his breakfast, he gave orders to his mechanic to tighten up the engine nuts and to attend to several details.

"We are just going to try out the motor," the aviator remarked to one of the army officers by way of explanation, in order that his test would not be mistaken for a failure to rise from the earth. "We are faced with the wind," he added, "and it would be impossible to rise while in that position."

Wright Landed Poorly.
Wilbur Wright had not arrived at the Governors Island when Mr. Curtis made his flight. In connection with the Hudson-Fulton celebration at the first favorable opportunity.

Two hours after Curtis completed his flight, Wilbur Wright had a machine taken from the shed and made it circle the Governors Island, striking the tip of one of his planes striking the water and overturning the machine. Fortunately no damage resulted, and the aeroplane was replaced on the starting track.

In starting Wright faced the west, and also the wind, which, however, was not as strong as when Curtis flew. The aviator, after his machine had gained sufficient speed, turned up his elevating planes, and rising rapidly, he headed toward the western edge of the island. Turning to the left, he made a wide sweep of the field, and coming around to the southern end of the island headed over the Hudson channel, going toward Brooklyn. As soon as he was over the water he turned right and circled the island, being lost from view of the spectators behind a clump of trees. He reappeared on the outer side of the Castle William and made a complete circle in the southern part of the aerodrome before coming around a second time very close to the earth. When about to land the left wing scraped the sand and caused the machine to skid so that the aeroplane landed sideways on the skids.

Difference in Machines.
"That's the worst landing I've made in a long time, and I'm not going to try anything like it again," said the aviator, thoughtfully, as he stepped down. "I thought surely the machine would be smashed to pieces. It is the only machine in the world that would stand such a bad landing."

Throughout the flight was characterized by a series of undulations. The machine gained an altitude of 80 to 100 feet at certain periods, but flew on an average of forty feet high. When at right angles to the wind, the aeroplane tilted somewhat and there were undulations which tended to show that the operator had good control, and the meeting with effect, the puff gusts of wind.

There were marked differences in the manner in which the Curtis and the Wright aeroplanes when taking curves, headed over like an automobile rounding a banked track. It also flew somewhat faster than the Curtis machine. After Wright had inspected his aeroplane to see if it had suffered any damage, Curtis, who had reached the field as Wright came to earth, greeted his rival familiarly, and asked him: "How's the going this morning?"

"Very good," responded the Dayton aviator, "but I made a very bad landing."

Circled the Statue.
Conditions for flying improved as the day advanced. A crowd gathered at the battery and boats surrounded Governors Island, in expectation of further exhibition.

After tightening the wires and screws of his aeroplane and shifting the starting rail so that it faced directly against the wind, Mr. Wright made another flight during which he crossed the lower bay and passed around the statue of liberty. He started on his flight at 10:13 o'clock and finished in 6 minutes and 30 seconds.

While returning from the statue with the wind behind him, he made approximately a speed of fifty miles an hour.

In starting the machine went along the monorail for the entire distance of 150 feet and then turned upward, ascending as he circled about. Mr. Wright headed his machine directly toward the Statue of Liberty. At a height of thirty feet he flew directly over the water, with the wind coming slightly over the port side. He climbed gradually as he approached the New Jersey shore, and had attained the height of 150 feet when he began his turns to the southward to pass around the statue. He was fully 150 feet high when he headed forth the starting point on Governors Island.

Like an Express Train.
Coming with the speed of an express train, the aeroplane was only ten or fifteen feet from the ground when it reached the aerodrome. Amid the cheers of the soldiers, guests and newspaper men, Mr. Wright brought his machine head up to the wind and made a perfect landing.

"I guess I made fifty miles an hour coming back," he said.

He had taken advantage of flying with the wind by using the force of gravity in coming down from a height of 150 feet. He had made his return trip in almost one-half the time that it took him to go over to the Statue of Liberty.

After his flight Mr. Wright said he would thoroughly overhaul his machine before taking it into the air again. The good conditions which prevailed this morning continue this afternoon. Mr. Wright will make the hour flight which is slated in his contract with the Hudson-Fulton celebration commission.

Minutes after Mr. Wright had landed, the giant steamer Lusitania crossed the course which Mr. Wright took in his flight. During the entire time that Mr. Wright was in the air the craft on the lower bay blew their whistles.

Mr. Curtis will fit his machine with a new propeller, but expects to make another flight late today.

Carry Pete Up Stream.
The imagery and sentiment of the Hudson-Fulton celebration left New York today when the Half Moon and the Clermont sailed up the Hudson to carry the celebration to the cities and towns which now begin their part in the centennial. In New York city the celebration will practically conclude this week, but along the route taken by the reproductions of Hudson and Fulton's famous craft the festivities will continue a week longer.

The Half Moon and the Clermont moved slowly, under their own power when possible, but accompanied by an escort of tugs, motor boats and United States warships. The battleships and cruisers cannot make the trip up the river on account of their deep draft; but torpedo boats, submarines and one cruiser drawing not more than twelve feet will sail up the Hudson and participate in the celebration at local points.

Weather conditions today were favorable for the balloon race to Albany, and crowds began early to surround the aerodrome on Riverside avenue, river on account of the dirigibles of Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin and George L. Tomlinson. A high northwest wind that prevailed during the last three days had subsided to a breeze, and it was expected to blow at a rate of about ten miles an hour, and during the street pageant to attract attention, the city's million guests had high hopes of an aerial show.

Hub to See Aviators.
News that Glenn H. Curtis had flown his aeroplane over Governors Island caused a rush to the Battery, and a crowd gathered there, in expectation of seeing other flights by either Curtis or Wilbur Wright. Curtis went up at 7 o'clock, and made only a short test flight, not leaving the confines of the island. It was announced, however, that the crowd might look for a longer and "official" exhibition at any time weather conditions were favorable.

Historical exercises appropriate to the day were held at all the public schools, and several tablets were dedicated by various patriotic societies at points of historical interest. Governor Hughes was scheduled to speak at the patriotic exercises this afternoon in the governor's room at the city hall, under the auspices of the Patriotic Women of America and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The boat races of the international fleet met in the Hudson, off Riverside drive, in a series of races. There were five of these contests, four limited to the crews of the battleships, and one to the crews of the cruisers. The first was an interstate race for crews of the naval militia. The prizes for the jockies were ship trophies and medals amounting to $750. Lieut. Fowler of the Connecticut, once captain of the Annapolis football team, had charge of the events, and every one of the fifty-four warships in the harbor entered crews.

Naval Contests Held.
A pulling race for foreign crews. A pulling race between crews of United States revenue cutters. A pulling race between crews of American war vessels. International race for all crews, which was the crowning event of the day. Each of the eight nations represented in the harbor were allowed to enter one crew, and the revenue service and naval militia also were permitted to participate.

The first stop of the Clermont and Half Moon on their trip up the river was at Yonkers. The feet left Yonkers at 3:30 and proceeded to Tarrytown, and after participating in the local celebration there is to go on up the river to Ossining, where it is due early tomorrow.

At Ossining the escort squadron and the Half Moon and Clermont will spend the day, while the crews of the warships participate in the military parade in New York. The sail up the river will be resumed Friday, which is the day of the great river parade. On that day a fleet of twelve United States torpedo boats, four submarines and a small cruiser with six squadrons of river craft and revenue cutters will steam up to Newburgh, where they will meet another fleet coming down the river from Albany. The Half Moon and the Clermont will leave Peekskill that morning and join the northern fleet at Newburgh. From Newburgh the two little vessels will proceed to the river until Troy is reached on Saturday, Oct. 3.

Held Official Banquet.
The program here tonight includes an official banquet for the guests at the Hotel Astor. About every important national will be represented. Vice President Sherman, Governor Hughes, Mayor McClellan and Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, president of the Hudson-Fulton commission, will assist in welcoming the guests.

TWO ROBBERIES BY A CRIPPLE

Stole Money and Watch at Brainerd—Caught at Carlton.

Brainerd, Minn., Sept. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roscoe Marshall is about as smooth a young guy as they make them. He is a cripple, or pretends to be, and is walking on crutches, but that did not hinder him committing two robberies. He was traveling toward Duluth with a companion named Oscar Anderson, and they stopped off Saturday afternoon and evening at Brainerd.

While here, Marshall, it is alleged, touched his pard for $50. He also made the acquaintance of E. F. Holst, and the latter in the kindness of his heart, fraterized Marshall, while they were in Brainerd. Marshall succeeded in slipping Mr. Holst's limousine. Anderson accompanied Marshall to Carlton and made complaint to the officers there. He is alleged to have locked Marshall up and told Anderson to come back to Brainerd and swear out a complaint. This Anderson did, bringing a letter from Sheriff Thelen of Carlton county. A warrant was issued for Marshall, and Deputy Sheriff Thelen went to Carlton and returned with him yesterday. When he got to Carl-ton Mr. Theorin found Mr. Holst's watch in the hands of the sheriff, it having been taken from Marshall by the officers. Mr. Holst also swore out a complaint against Marshall and he was arraigned on both charges yesterday afternoon and his preliminary examination was set for this morning on both charges.

TENSE SITUATION MAIRS BANQUET TO JAPANESE.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 29.—Addressing the commercial commissioners of Japan at a banquet, which concluded an all-day entertainment, J. Augustine Smith, a manufacturer of this city, yesterday told the distinguished visitors that it was not right for them to copy American articles of manufacture. Mr. Smith, representing the state department on the Japanese tour of the United States, informed the speaker and the citizens of South Bend that Japan is now safeguarding American patents registered in that country. Mr. Smith was responding to a speech made by Baron Shibusawa, chairman of the Japanese commission, and apparently was under the impression that the trade secrets of this country were jeopardized by the presence of the commercial men from the Far East. He accepted the correction in good part and a tense situation was brought to a close. The Japanese commissioners today visited several of the manufacturing plants in this city. Notre Dame university also was visited.

CONSERVATORY ORCHESTRAL CLUB WILL BE HEARD FOR THE FIRST TIME

A recital will be presented this evening at the Lyceum theater by the Conservatory Orchestral club and students of the Flaaten conservatory, from the violin, piano, voice and dramatic departments. The second part of the program will be devoted to Gounod's cantata, "Gallia," with a large chorus and orchestral accompaniment. There is much interest being shown in this evening's concert, as it will be the first public appearance of the new orchestra.

ONE MINER KILLED.

And Another Seriously Injured in the Ashland Mine.

Ironwood, Mich., Sept. 29.—Joseph Capisith, aged 35, married, was instantly killed yesterday in the Ashland mine by being struck by earth loosened by a blast. Capisith had resided here for several years and leaves a wife and three children in Italy. He had returned from visiting them about six months ago. Giovanni Scilla, aged 35, married, was seriously injured from the effects of the same blast that killed Capisith. He is at a local hospital. His family of a wife and five children reside in Italy.

This accident was the first that resulted fatally in the mine in four years.

CRANE STARTS FOR HIS POST IN PEKIN.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Charles R. Crane, recently appointed United States minister to China, left Chicago last night for his new post. He does not only look after state department affairs in the Oriental kingdom, but to use particular effort in the development of commercial relations according to plans outlined by Secretary of State Philander C. Knox. The political program includes the suppression of the opium traffic, the reorganization of the financial system and the development of education. Mr. Crane, with his family, will sail from San Francisco Oct. 8.

LOST $200

The man who neglected to buy his ten acres of land for a grove on the Isle of Pines last year has lost just $200 by waiting. To wait another year will prove still more expensive. With the great number of people going to the island, and making improvements, and with the hundreds of acres of groves now just coming into bearing, and beginning to ship their fruit, land values cannot stand still. $50 an acre is dirt cheap.

DEFENSE OUTLINED IN MATEL MURDER TRIAL

Claimed That Adolph Mattis Was Killed in Drunken Brawl.

Wedding Party Was Drinking Alcohol From Beer Glasses.

That Adolph Mattis was killed in a drunken brawl on Garfield avenue following the celebration of the wedding of Julia Rabelechka and Adolph Szekulski at 715 Garfield avenue is the contention of the defense in the case of Victor Matel, who is on trial in district court for murder in the first degree, being charged with responsibility for Mattis' death.

The justification for the wedding assumed the form of a debauch according to the defense. Seven quarter barrels of beer, two gallons of whisky, a gallon of alcohol and a gallon of wine were provided for the elevation of the spirits of the guests, and after they had danced and drunk until 2 o'clock in the morning, everybody was drunk. Quarreling during the night wound up in a free-for-all fight, in which Mattis received his death blow, the defense claims.

The state rested about 11 o'clock this morning, and M. C. Bronkka, the attorney for Matel, outlined his case. He told of the wedding and the liquor provided, and said that about 10 o'clock in the evening quarrels began to spring up here and there. He said they would show that Victor Matel did not have any quarrel and had no grievance against anybody. He drank some and joined in the justification, but he was more or less fighting between the state, but Victor did not join Adolph Mattis was killed in a general row, he said, and nobody knew who did the killing.

Adolph and Victor Matel did get beaten the night of the wedding, and others chased him. Victor was kicked and pounded and he also ran. None of the party saw them afterwards and they were not seen on Garfield avenue again but were arrested at their home, 1202 West Twelfth street, at 6 o'clock the next morning. They had no fight at the place at which Adolph Mattis' body was found, he said.

It would be shown, he said, that Victor Matel had no knife and has not owned one at least for some time. Victor and Adolph had no grievance against Mattis, and that they had nothing to do with the killing. Sanka was the first witness called by the defense. He is a liquor dealer and he said that he was furnished the liquor for the wedding party. He told the amount he furnished. He was a guest at the wedding and said the whole party was pretty drunk. He said there were quarrels at different times, but he didn't think the Mattis and Matel were quarreling.

Mattel told him at one time, he said, that Adolph Matel wanted to fight with him and that Mattis went into the house to look for Matel to finish the fight.

Sanka confessed things still more when he said that he saw that Victor had a dark coat and light trousers and vest. Other witnesses had previously testified that Victor had on a light suit.

Sanka said that he left for home about ten minutes to 5 o'clock and stopped on his way to his home to throw three quarter barrels of beer into the yard. He said he saw no one around the place at that time. Victor and Adolph Matel and Adolph Mattis were at the wedding celebration when he left. At that time, he said, Mattis was drunk, but not too drunk, but drunk, too, as he expressed it. Adolph and Victor Matel were also "pretty drunk," he said, and the whole party were more or less under the influence of liquor. At the conclusion of his testimony, the noon adjournment was taken.

State's Best Witness.
On the stand this morning Paul Bartoz corroborated the story of the murder as it was told yesterday morning by Walter Hero and added a positive identification of Victor and Adolph Matel as the two men who rushed from the gate in front of Joe Matel's house and attacked Mattis. On cross-examination he denied having made statements after the tragedy to the effect that he did not see the killing, that he did not know who struck the fatal blow.

H. J. Richardson, forecaster at the local United States weather bureau testified that according to the records, the night of Aug. 31 and the early morning of Sept. 1 were clear with a full moon shining. The testimony was introduced to show that Bartoz's identification of the Matels was possible under the weather conditions.

There were few developments in the trial yesterday afternoon. Witnesses were produced by the state to testify to the fight between Victor Matel and Adolph Mattis during the wedding celebration at William Backuski's house. There was one hitch in the state's chain of testimony.

Victor Matel, who testified that Victor Matel's telling him that he would put a bullet in Adolph Matel's head, said that Victor wore a dark coat, and the state has been contending that Victor wore a light suit, and a man with a light suit was involved in the murder.

Carl Hanson, who is employed at the office on the ore docks, who went to the wedding on the invitation of the employees at the docks. He knew Mattis, he said, and saw him around there during the evening, tending bar at times. At one time, when Mattis was behind the bar, he said, somebody started a row on the outside and threw a glass at Mattis. Somebody tried to put a man with a light suit out from behind the bar and put them both out. He said he didn't know the man in the light suit and didn't know Victor Matel.

William Deresz said that he is employed on the ore docks and knew Adolph Mattis in the old country. He knew Victor Matel also, he said, and knew his cousin Adolph. He testified that Adolph, Joe and two others living in Duluth are brothers, and Victor is their cousin.

Deresz testified that during the evening he and Victor Matel had a conversation in which Matel said that he had a bullet in Adolph Matel's head. He said there was nothing else said, Victor Matel was walking away when Adolph Matel came up.

Alcohol in Beer Glasses.
Deresz testified a little light on the quality of drink they had at the wedding. He said there was beer, whisky and alcohol. He was not sure that the latter was alcohol, but it was white and sweet. Carl Hanson had testified previously that the stuff was diluted alcohol. Deresz said that he drank one glass of the liquor and then lay down dead drunk. He said they were drinking it in beer glasses, each drink being about two-thirds of a glass.

Deresz said that he drank a glass of alcohol about 10:30 and it knocked him out. He said he didn't remember very clearly how he got to his home at 329 Seventeenth avenue west. Anton Tomaszewicz was also on the stand yesterday afternoon, and he also testified to some trouble between Victor Matel and Adolph Mattis during the evening of the wedding celebration.

BOTH SIDES OF QUESTION

Public Affairs Committee Are Gathering Information Regarding Produce Market.

Will Be Ready to Take Intelligent Action at Next Meeting.

The complaint that farmers can find no market for their produce in this city will be taken up by the public affairs committee at the meeting scheduled for next week.

Two committees were report their investigations and conclusions to the members of the public affairs committee. The two committees are the committees appointed to look into both the commission men's side of the situation and also the farmers' side of the controversy.

John G. Williams, O. H. Simonds and E. A. Shatze are at the present time engaged in investigating the question from the viewpoint of the commission men. Charles P. Craig, A. B. Hostetter and John G. Williams are also at the present time investigating the contention of the small farmers that they cannot find a market for their produce in this city.

Both sides of the question will be presented before the members of the public affairs committee. Action will probably result from the meeting of the public affairs committee. The members of that committee desire a thorough working knowledge before beginning any action in the matter. This information is being gathered by the two committees at the present time.

The present plan is to gather the facts upon both sides of the case. When the true situation has been learned, the members of the public affairs committee will endeavor to remedy the evils.

It is the desire of the members of the public affairs committee to secure an open market in this city for the produce of the farms surrounding Duluth, and it is with this idea in view that the present probe into existing conditions is being made.

CRITICISES THE STATES

Taft Says They Ought to Be More Active in Work of Conservation.

President Talks at Spokane on Policy as to Our Resources.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 28.—President Taft yesterday afternoon delivered his looked-for conservation speech, during his visit to this city.

The president declared that many newspapers had drawn unfair inferences as to the attitude of his administration on the general conservation of natural resources.

"My administration," he said, "is pledged to follow out the policies of Mr. Roosevelt in this regard, and while that pledge does not involve me in any obligation, I carry them out unless I have congressional authority to do so, it does mean that I intend every step to exert every legitimate influence upon congress to enact the legislation which shall best preserve the purpose indicated."

The president declared that Secretary of the Interior Ballinger is in accord with him as to the necessity for promoting in every legitimate way the conservation of natural resources.

The president also had praise for Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot and referred to Pinchot's "wonderful work for the conservation of the forests," supported by Mr. Roosevelt.

President Taft declared as to water power sites that congress must authorize the government to allot these sites to private interests and development, the government retaining general control and supervision.

The president said his train until after midnight dictating his speech, and consulted with Secretary Ballinger on the address.

Mr. Taft said: "I am going to take today the subject of the conservation of our natural resources. This has been a very wide scope. I don't propose to cover the whole ground today. I shall confine my attention to the parts of the policy which are certainly within the jurisdiction of the federal government, especially concerning the country west of the Rocky river."

Talks of Power Sites.
"I refer first to the preservation of the natural forest lands. The improvement of arid and semi-arid lands by irrigation, which is the disposition of water power sites upon public lands with proper restrictions upon the use, both in respect to the compensation its extent in point of time, and the adjustment of rates to be charged to the public by the beneficiary of the grant, fourth, to the disposition of coal, oil and phosphate lands owned by the government, with such restrictions as will permit their development for private profit and yet will prevent monopoly and extortion in the sale of the product."

States Are To Blame.
"It appears that the government timber owned by private individuals and only 3 per cent of the timber land owned by private individuals is properly looked after, according to modern methods of forestry. The destruction by fire of forests is estimated to be $50,000,000 a year."

"It would seem, therefore, imperative that the states should exercise their jurisdiction over these forests to which I have referred and which are held by private individuals."

"I don't stop to discuss at length the forestry question. The wonderful progress made by Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Wilson has met the denunciation of persons in this Western country on the ground that property was being taken from the states intended for individuals and was being withheld from them."

"But I think general opposition to Mr. Pinchot's plans has disappeared and that the great body of the American people recognize the benefit of the reform in forestry, and are greatly regret that it was not begun years before. Congress has come fully to recognize the necessity of pursuing forestry reform by making liberal appropriations for the purpose. The forest lands of the United States ought to be surveyed and carefully preserved, and its utilization in respect to them clearly defined.

Should Be More Active.
"The regulation of forests in private ownership within state boundaries is not plainly within the scope of federal jurisdiction, and it should be undertaken by the states. I do not think that the states have taken up the matter with as much energy as they ought."

"The plan of the government to reclaim the arid and semi-arid lands, manifested in the reclamation act, has been carried out most rapidly by the bureau charged with its execution. There are some thirty projects which have been entered upon by the reclamation bureau, and I believe that all of them are to be commended for their execution of the project, and begun to show that the strict limitations of the reclamation act were not closely observed by those engaged in executing them."

Will Ask For Funds.
"The reclamation act provides for the expenditure of funds made up by the sale of public lands and reimbursements to the project, and the project is to be contracted for and begun until the money for the completion of that part of the project contracted for shall be in the reclamation fund."

"Now it appears that it will take $15,000,000 or more, which is not available in the reclamation fund at present, fully to complete the projects, and it also appears that a great number of persons, by means of the beginning of the projects, have been led into making settlements, making the expenditure of time and labor with the hope and upon the reliance that such reclamation enterprises would be carried through in a reasonable time."

"I think it wise to urge to congress for relief by urging the passage of an act authorizing the secretary of the interior to permit the sale of the interior to issue bonds in the sum of $10,000,000 or more to complete the projects. Those bonds should be redeemed from the channel of the reclamation fund after the completion of the projects."

NO FLAGS OVER TAFT AND DIAZ

Territorial Dispute Leads to Arrangement for Neutral Ground.

Washington, Sept. 28.—When the long-heralded meeting between President Taft and President Diaz at El Paso and Juarez, Mex., takes place next month, the intervening territory between these two cities, which is in dispute, will be for this occasion regarded as neutral territory, and the flags of neither nation will be displayed therein. The region, known as the "El Chamizal" contains about 550 acres. Ownership of it is in question, because of the shifting of the channel of the Rio Grande river, the dividing line between the two countries.

On Oct. 16, President Diaz will be welcomed in the name of President Taft at the entrance to the city of El Paso, outside of the El Chamizal zone. When President Taft goes to Mexico he will be welcomed in the name of the president of Mexico at the entrance of Juarez City.

President Taft's escort will consist of headquarters band and troops from Fort Sam Houston, under command of Brig. Gen. Albert L. Meyer, commanding the department of Texas. By agreement the escort will be limited to twenty men, while the executives are crossing El Chamizal.

CHURCH PLANS FOR SCHOOLS

Educational Work Is Given Impetus By German Evangelical Synod.

Burlington, Iowa, Sept. 28.—Aside from the election of officers, the general conference of the German Evangelical Synod of North America did much to forward the interests of its educational enterprises. A society was organized to increase the interest of the church people in their educational institutions, and an effort will be made to secure from each of the 10,000 congregations at least one student for church schools.

A committee with Rev. Paul Dressel of Evansville, Ind., as chairman, was appointed on forwarding educational work. The committee will have the task of awakening church people on behalf of the educational institutions and will, it is said, lay the foundation for a $1,000,000 endowment to increase the facilities and effectiveness of churches, colleges and schools.

An attempt to establish a fund for supernumerary ministers and their widows and orphans failed for the time being.

All officers were re-elected, except Treasurer Henry Bode of East St. Louis, succeeded by Rev. H. E. Wolfe.

Rev. Joseph Poster of Cincinnati was chosen president; Rev. Ferdinand Busser of Papinau, Ill., vice president, and Rev. Gustav Fischer of Milwaukee, secretary. The following officers of the court in the synod to which appeals from all districts will be submitted, were elected:

Rev. A. H. Becker, New Orleans; T. Homan, Pleasant Ridge, Ohio; C. Hoage, Fort Hara, Mich.; H. Alz, St. Louis; G. A. Naumann, Lincoln, Neb.; and J. H. Schneider, Evansville, Ind.

BRYAN MAY LOCK HORNS WITH BAILEY

Joint Debate on 'Tariff Is Planned in Atlanta Next Month.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 28.—A joint debate on the tariff by William J. Bryan and Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas at Atlanta is assured. It will be held some time next month. Senator Bailey has wired his acceptance of the formal invitation extended by the Young Men's Democratic League of Atlanta for a joint debate between himself and Mr. Bryan. While no reply to the invitation has been received from Mr. Bryan, advice from Fort Worth, Tex., are to the effect that Mr. Bailey wired Mr. Bryan of his acceptance, incorporating in his message to the former Democratic standard bearer a personal request that he, too, accept and fix the date of the meeting.

Mr. Bryan is expected to accept the invitation and suggest a suitable date. Mr. Bryan went to Texas about two weeks ago and in a number of speeches assailed the attitude of Mr. Bailey on this subject, the latter defending his position from platforms in various parts of the state.

MURDERERS ARE CHASED BY 300

Men and Bloodhounds Are on Trail of Slayers of West Virginia Family.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 28.—A report from Buchanan county, W. Va., just across the Kentucky state line, says that more than 300 men are engaged with bloodhounds in a chase over the mountains after the men who murdered George Meadows, his wife, three children and his mother-in-law, and then turned the family home at Hurley, Va., last Wednesday. It is alleged that the mother-in-law, Mrs. Justice, had $2,000 hidden in the house and that the money was carried off by the murderers. The William Writter Lumber company, one of the largest corporations in the mountains, has closed down and has ordered every employe to assist in the hunt.

THE AMERICAN YACHTSMAN

No better type of man exists on the face of the earth than the American yachtsman. Since 1851 the supremacy of American sailors and yacht designers has never been seriously endangered on either fresh or salt water.

When devotees of yachting gather to toast each other—no beer is half so popular as

Budweiser

The King of All Bottled Beers

It has a bunk aboard every yacht. It puts a tang in the blood that tingles like an ocean breeze. It is pure and clean as the foam on a white-cap. It is cool and refreshing as a dip in the sea on a summer day.

CAUTION: To guard against deception and substitution, see that the corks are branded "Budweiser" and that the "Crown Caps" bear the A and Eagle trade-mark.

CONCERNING WIFE

"The success of marriage depends," says Miss Ruth Patrick, instructor of domestic science and art at the Young Women's Christian association, "upon the ability of the wife to cook steaks properly, to make coffee clearly, and to manage things so that the housekeeper may keep within the household allowance."

Of course, Miss Patrick doesn't say that right out. But her manner would lead one to infer as much. "Sentiment is all right," says Miss Patrick, "but sentiment won't do over in place of well cooked dinner and sentiment isn't in the running with the ability to make a $5.97 hat look like one for $15."

One would infer all this from Miss Patrick's conversation if one's informing powers were good. The domestic science and art department of the Y. W. C. A. are to be very busy places this autumn and Miss Patrick will be the busy person presiding over them. The prospectus for the working year announces that Miss Ruth B. Patrick, graduate of the Lewis Institute of Chicago will teach cooking which will include "four mixtures, canning and preserving soups, meats and fish, vegetables, salads, desserts," and it all ends with an alarming but pointed course on invalid cookery. Serving will be taught, also a few staple menus.

Then the economics of the household will be taught in a blithe little course which will make hard experience unnecessary—maybe. A study of rent, fuel, light and the like, with reference to cost and efficiency will be made that will lack all the harrowing experiences of the actual. And then besides—sanitation, household and public—will be taken up and thoroughly discussed. The course is recommended particularly to brides.

Sewing and millinery, languages and physical training will also be provided this year at the association. The term opens next week and classes are being arranged.

MORRIS-WHYTE.

Beautiful Service Takes Place at Trinity Cathedral.

At a beautiful wedding service last evening at Trinity pro-cathedral, Miss Elizabeth Morris, the youngest daughter of Judge and Mrs. Page Morris, became the bride of Jimmy Norman Whyte of this city. The church was beautifully decorated for the ceremony and several hundred guests were present. Pains and box trees and ferns were used about the chancel and Southern smiles were strung from the arch above. Similar to the home of Mrs. Harker of 651 Tenth avenue east.

The prelude of organ music while the guests were assembling was played by Mrs. Henry K. Brenner, and at 8 o'clock the wedding march was Morris. The ushers, who were Mr. Morris, Chester Whyte, Paul Welch, C. J. McHale and Harvey Clark, entered first, followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Helen Ostrom, Miss Frances St. Clair, Mary Paine and Miss Rachael St. Clair. The maid of honor, Miss Wilhelmina of Boston, immediately preceded the bride, who entered with her father, Mr. Whyte and his groomsmen, Charles D. Brewer, awaited them at the altar, and Bishop J. D. Morrison read the service.

The bride wore a beautiful imported gown of ivory white satin, trimmed in rose point lace. She wore a long tulle veil and orange blossoms and wore a diamond pendant, the gift of Mr. Whyte. The maid of honor wore a gown of yellow chiffon and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were crowned in white chiffon embroidered in yellow, and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

A reception followed at the home of Judge and Mrs. Morris at 223 East First street. The rooms were decorated in chrysanthemums and American beauty roses and hellebores, and the assisting hostesses were Mrs. J. D. Morrison, Mrs. A. D. Thompson, Mrs. George D. Swift, Mrs. Howard T. Abbott, Mrs. Warren E. Greene, Mrs. Daniel Andrews and Mrs. Carroll Grant. About 100 guests called during the receiving hours.

Mr. Whyte and his bride left for a wedding tour. They will be at home after the first of the year at their new home at Eighteenth avenue east and Superior street.

Autumn Social.

The annual social of the First Baptist church was held, and a large number of the congregation was present for the social evening. A musical program was given by Royal G. Wilson, Mrs. Mark Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Morton and Dexter Osterberg, and there were readings by Miss Ethel Long and Miss Dorothy Patton.

Decorations about the parlors were of mountain ash berries and their foliage and golden glow and sun flowers.

ARTIST AND AUTHOR

Is Mary Hallock, Who Will Appear Here.

Mary Hallock, pianist, who will be one of the artists to appear before the Matinee Musical this year, is one of the most interesting of the younger women pianists. She is a woman interesting both in her family connections and the training she has received for her career. After several years of arduous study she has received her diploma for a time and plunged into the psychological problem of rhythm, with all the more eagerness that she felt herself trained state so far as her piano playing was concerned. She has much needed rest was turned to good scientific account. She worked long and assiduously at the different reference libraries of Philadelphia, the result being an excellent paper on rhythm which appeared in the Science Monthly for September, 1903. This was followed by an article on verbal rhythm printed in Post Lore for June, 1904. After this followed the lecture on "Time Universal," delivered under the auspices of the Free Libraries of Philadelphia. This work on rhythm has been noticed in magazines all over the world—in England, Japan, Germany, America and naturally the Oriental papers of Asia Minor.

She is the editor of one of the only two authorized text-books on Leschetizky method extant, the excellent one written by the foremost interpreter of the Leschetizky school—F. M. Frenkel, pianist.

Mrs. Hallock's work is well known.

Women's Meeting. Miss Holt, a returned missionary, will be the speaker tomorrow afternoon at the women's meeting at the Lake avenue Bethel. The meeting is at 2:30 o'clock, and any woman interested in the meeting is invited to attend.

Mrs. G. P. Paine and sons, who were the guests of Mrs. Paine's sister, Mrs. A. Schumacher, of 2418 Second street, will return tomorrow to their home at Fargo, N. D.

Miss Josephine Carey will return this week from Montana, where she has visited for two months and where she gave several most successful concerts.

Mrs. M. J. Chessman and daughter, Lorrette, who have been visiting friends in the city left today for their home in the West.

Miss Mae Levy of this city is visiting friends at St. Paul.

Mrs. Wesley Peetham, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will return this week from a few weeks' visit with her brother in Montana.

UP TO MOTHER. Successful Marriages Depend in Part On Her.

Successful marrying, as a rule, follows successful living; good attracts good; evil attracts evil; men who are failures congregate in free places and bars about it; successful men meet at clubs and fraternities; a writer lives in the squalor of Bohemia till he "arizes," then he deserts the unwashed; if you would attract desirable young men, be desirable; have desirable surroundings. A man hardly knows, ofttimes, where to draw the line that separates a girl from her environment; the picture is so one with the frame writes Anne Shannon Monroe in the Delicater of "Marrying One's Daughters."

You can not live successfully to yourself alone. If you crave the life of a recluse—a book and a hearth with few interruptions and no part in the doings of the world's day, then do not marry and bring children into a world to whom doing your duty must mean continual self-sacrifice.

There is a contagion about wholesome, active living; ordinary young men who come within its range develop into very desirable "matches" for desirable daughters. The stream of successful living into which the youth has pushed his craft is strong enough to carry him and to bring out latent abilities.

As an old observer remarked: "The woods are full of fine young men, only the girls can't see 'em." The same mothers who bear daughters bear sons; why should there not be sufficient suitable young men—why, unless these homes are woefully lacking in right living. Marriage is a kind of developing-tank in which latent abilities first make their appearance; it is the most judicious choice of a girl trained to right living can bring out that which is good and suppress that which is not.

"Good marriages seem to run in some families," so a woman remarked; but my observation has been that they run where right ideas of daily living are in connection with which this remark was made. With one exception the young men they married were poor, of ordinary promise, but the benefit of connecting themselves with a family such as this one—not at all but alive, attractive, people of some weight in the community because of the part they had always taken in the community's life—was great enough to strengthen the climbing efforts and bring the young men, later, into marked success. Married into a different kind of family, whose life was no concerted action, with good cheer, toward of each other, and the very likely would have amounted to little or nothing, even as we often see promising young men allow their fires to die out on the unkind hearth of cheerless, stinking homes.

What every woman knows, and the majority fail to heed, is that the expense of dressing comes from her purse, and not wear and tear, says an exchange.

An article of apparel will last twice over with proper handling, one that is thrown around and put away carelessly, more than that it will look better at any time.

One woman contends that her clothes outlast the styles anyway, so it doesn't matter how she treats them. Possibly if it came to a question of wearing holes in them, hers might be a good argument. To most of us, however, when a garment has lost its freshness it is "worn out" and must be replaced; as long as we wear it, it should look in right shape and condition.

A little investment in the beginning, if one is turning over a new leaf, will amply repay one. To start out right one should buy enough calico—it can be had for as low as 3 cents a yard—to make bags to cover the gowns that are on hangers. White tissue paper should be the next purchase; after that shoe bags, large paper bags and brushes—clothes, hat and shoe—and the hangers for all skirts and coats.

We have all kinds of instructions of this kind constantly dinned into us, and yet so many of us, through one excuse or another, fail to give any attention to them. Women who have their houses continuously upset, often claim they have not the time to keep them in order. When they want their belongings in a hurry they either have to hunt for them or spend twice the time smoothing out wrinkles and brushing off accumulated dust; sometimes they go through the whole process when another person is waiting for them to start out.

There is no time saver like neatness and order; this is the opinion of not one, but many women whose household machinery moves along smoothly and happily. So in the matter of personal belongings, if they are well cared for, a woman has the consciousness of looking better in them and consequently is being unconscious of them; there is no danger of embarrassing braids hanging down or gaping hems and fastenings.

WON'T LET COOK ALONE

Crowds Recognize Him and People Follow Him on the Train.

Peary Has Finished His Attack, But Will Make No Statement.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Dr. F. A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, came to this city today for the purpose of giving a lecture tonight at the Academy of Music, and received a most enthusiastic reception at the hands of a great crowd that waited for him at the Pennsylvania railroad station.

Dr. Cook could not escape from New York without recognition this morning. When he made a sudden dash from the Waldorf-Astoria hotel to go to the ferry in a motor car, he was recognized on all sides. Every one cheered or raised his hat as the car sped along. Once in his train, he hoped to have a few quiet moments in which to prepare his lecture for tonight, but this was not to be, for the passengers passed and repassed his seat in order to get a glimpse at the famous explorer and his hand.

Governor Fort of New Jersey, who was on the train, passed twenty minutes with the explorer.

One passenger on the train shook hands with the doctor so heartily as to cause the explorer considerable pain. Dr. Cook's right hand is so injured by handshaking that he must use his left.

Peary Has Statement Ready. Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 29.—After a two days conference with Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard, president of the Peary Arctic club, outlining the plans of campaign to determine whether Dr. Cook reached the North Pole or not, Commander Robert E. Peary and wife left here today for home.

The explorer declared that only Gen. Hubbard and himself had knowledge of what was contained in the statement which would be issued to show that Dr. Cook could not have reached the Pole. Hubbard will express no opinion on the statement, saying that must be done by the Peary Arctic club as a body.

FIGHT FOR WATER RIGHTS.

Fisherman Sued By Farmer for $25 Damages for Trespassing.

Sparta, Wis., Sept. 29.—The Monroe trespass case, to be tried at this term of circuit court is a test case to decide whether a farmer has a right to charge a fee for fishing and hunting on his premises.

The farmers in the vicinity of Trout falls, noted trout fishing grounds, banded themselves together last spring agreeing to charge a fee of $1 a day of each person who wished to fish or hunt on their premises, or $10 for the season.

The defendant is alleged to have entered the premises of Monroe Reed, refusing to pay the fee, but offering the minimum legal damages for trespass, of 6 cents. This was refused. The suit was started to recover $25 damages and a permanent injunction against the defendant restraining him from entering and trespassing on the premises.

MANY CHARGES MADE BY WIFE

Charles Peterson Is Branded as Undesirable Husband in Divorce Action.

Startling charges are made against Charles R. Peterson in a complaint filed by his wife, Estella Peterson, in a suit for divorce brought by her in district court. She alleges that he repeatedly tried to induce her to live a life of shame and support him; that he is an habitual drunkard; that he cannot hold a job on account of his habits and plays a violin in saloons and immoral houses; that he has treated her cruelly for a long time past and finally deserted her and their child.

Mrs. Peterson is 25 years old and her husband is 28. They were married in Duluth Aug. 13, 1905, and have one child, Garnett Viola Peterson, 2 years old.

Mrs. Peterson says her husband has been an habitual drunkard for over a year past. He is a waiter by trade, she says, but is unable to hold a position. The desertion, she says, occurred in March of this year. She asks a divorce and custody of the child.

LAND FLOODED; ASKS DAMAGES

Ivar Edward Newman Says River Rose Because of Artificial Dam.

Ivar Edward Newman filed suit in district court this morning against the Northern Lumber company to recover $2,890, to which amount he claims to have been damaged by the inundation of his land last spring. He claims a branch of the Water Hen river was caused to overflow by the construction of a dam by the Lumber company and his crops and buildings were damaged.

Newman has a homestead on the east half of the northwest quarter and lots 1 and 2, section 19, 56-15, in this county. He is living on the land as a homesteaded, has twenty acres under cultivation and has a house, bathhouse and other improvements on the premises. At the time of the inundation complained of there were twenty tons of hay on a meadow.

The defendant was engaged in driving logs in the Water Hen river last spring, he said, and the river runs through his land. June 30 a dam was constructed on a branch of the river and forty acres of his land was flooded. His crops were destroyed, his house and bathhouse flooded, a number of cross-ties washed away and other damages done. He fixes his special damages at $1,000.

FLOODS ARE ALARMING MAINE MEN

Unprecedented Conditions Are Reported Along the Penobscot.

Heavy Rains Have Sent Smaller Streams Over Their Banks.

Logs Are Swept Away and Railroad Traffic Badly Hampered.

Bangor, Me., Sept. 30.—Conditions such as never prevailed before on the Penobscot river in this season of the year are alarming the lumber and mill men of this section. Early this morning a boom holding about 2,000,000 feet of logs in the main river above the waterworks of this city, gave way, and the logs went over the dam and down the river, past the city.

Part of the logs were held in the rafting booms below the city, but over 1,000,000 feet passed down towards the sea. A large crew of men and steam tugs have been sent to pick up what they can of the logs.

There has been a rise of four feet in the river at Bangor since Wednesday morning, and the water is still rising.

Great Damage Caused.
Portland, Me., Sept. 30.—One of the worst floods in the history of Northern and Eastern Maine and Western New Brunswick, resulting from the heavy rainfall of the last few days, has already caused great damage in Aroostook, Penobscot, Piscataquis, Somerset and Washington counties in this state.

At many points the swollen rivers continue to rise, and further destruction. Washouts on railroad lines have interfered greatly with traffic, and in some sections trains are at a standstill and a number of cities and

IS CRUSHED AT GRANARY DOOR

Benjamin Odenberg of McIntosh May Have Sustained Broken Back.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Benjamin Odenberg of McIntosh, Minn., is in the Deaconess hospital in this city suffering from serious injuries received yesterday morning as a result of a very peculiar accident. He may have sustained a broken back in the accident, but this is not certain yet. Injuries are also feared.

At the time he was hurt Odenberg was engaged in hauling wheat, entering the granary, which is a large one permitting the entrance of the team and wagon, the wheat being dumped out. As a result of this miscalculation he was caught between the top of the door frame and the load and very seriously crushed.

TAFT VISITS THE BIG FAIR

Spends Time at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition.

Sees Igorot Babies Named After Him and the Other Sights.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30.—President Taft began today with the assurance that he would have a good time at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, for he had himself prepared the program, except for minor details, before he left Beverly.

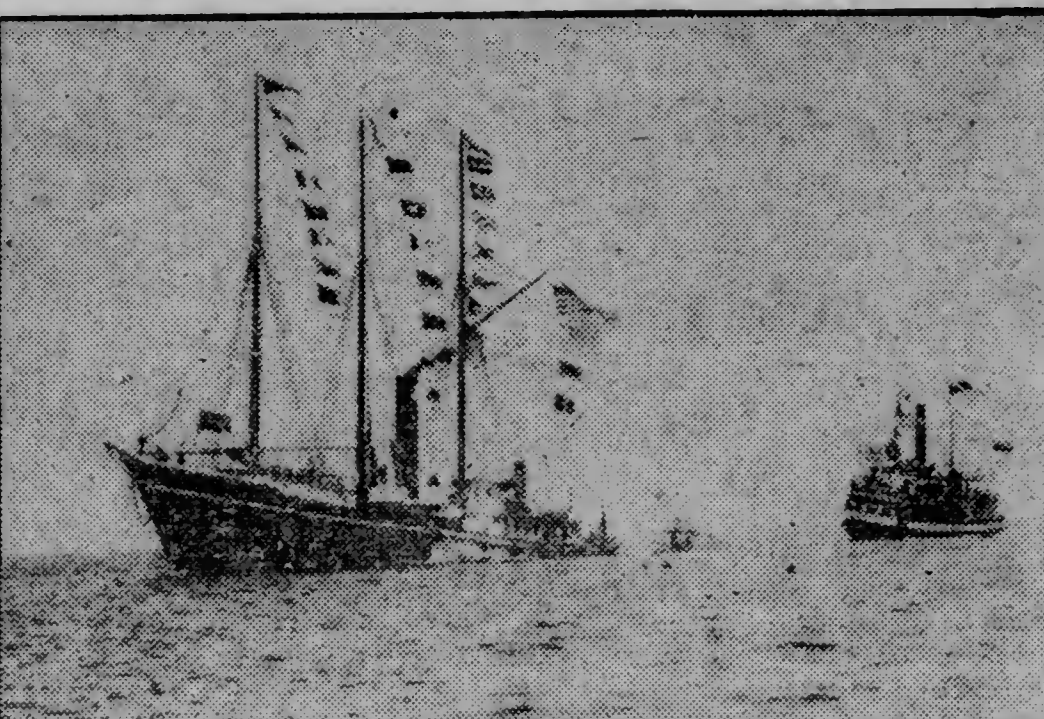

The president, after shaking hands with all the guests at the Rainier club last night, and looking in upon a dinner of the Yale club at the Hotel Washington, went to his room at 9 o'clock, and arose this morning well prepared for his day of sightseeing and speaking.

The president and his party, including Secretary Ballinger, John Hays Hammond and Governor Hay, left the Hotel Washington at 9:15 o'clock this morning in automobiles, and on the steps of the exposition auditorium were received by the official reception committee. From this point the president and his escort reviewed a parade of soldiers, marines, school children, Igorotes, Indians, Eskimos and Japanese in costume.

BAY STATE DEMOCRATS AT WORK ON THE STATE TICKET

Vahey for Governor and Two Republicans for Other Places Predicted.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 30.—With prospects bright for harmony and a practically unanimous choice of a state ticket, the Massachusetts Democratic state convention was opened today in historic Faneuil hall. The only possible contest in sight was regarding the nomination for governor. This nomination lay between James H. Vahey of Watertown, a well-known Democratic candidate, and Mayor J. T. Coughlin of Fall River, the supporters of Vahey were confident that the Fall River mayor would withdraw before the balloting began.

Predictions were made that the names of at least two so-called "liberal" Republicans would be presented to the convention for prominent places on the Democratic ticket. Eugene N. Foss of Cohasset probably will be named for lieutenant governor, Harvey N. Shepard of Boston is slated for attorney general.

Thomas P. Riley of Malden was named temporary chairman and Charles S. Hamilton of Boston permanent chairman of the convention.

ARMY HAS BUSY DAY

Takes Part in Festivities and Spectacles of Hudson-Fulton Week.

High Wind Prevents New Flights by Wright and Curtiss.

New York, Sept. 30.—The army today added its tribute to that which the navy has lavishly paid to honor the memory of Henry Hudson and Robert Fulton. This second of the three parades of the week from the upper end of Central park to Washington square, along Central park west and Fifth avenue, called together a variety of organizations and nationalities such as New York has seldom seen.

What everybody knew would occur today, however, had a rival in an

CAR INSPECTOR MEETS DEATH

Louis Simpson Is Knocked Off Refrigerator Car at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Simpson, aged 24, died this morning at St. Vincent's hospital as the result of falling from the top of a refrigerator car last evening and his legs and arms being crushed by the wheels. He was a car inspector, and a switch engine bumped into the car, knocking him off. He leaves a wife and four small children. His parents reside at Virgatus, Wis.

FOR STATUE OF JOHNSON

Duluth's Contributions to the Memorial Fund Not Coming Fast Enough.

Nineteen Chinamen in St. Paul Each Send Dollar to Fund.

With the announcement by Governor Eberhart of the names of the Johnson Memorial commission, an official body has been created, which will take charge of the fund that is being raised in the state and decide the form that the memorial shall take. Chris D. O'Brien of St. Paul, the president of the commission, was the first person to suggest this memorial by the people of Minnesota to their beloved governor, and it was his idea that a statue of Governor Johnson should be erected at the entrance to the capitol. While it is probable this idea will be adopted by the commission, it is possible that some other plan may be deemed advisable and the commission will be ready to receive suggestions on this point.

The fund being raised in St. Paul now amounts to $2,500 and may reach double those figures before the end of the week. In this respect St. Paul is setting an example which Duluth should follow. It must be confessed that the size of the fund here does not at present do credit to Duluth, considering the many admirers the governor had here and the great services that he performed for this city and county. The fund does not yet reach $200, when it should be ten times that sum. But there is still time for Duluth people to come to the front, so that the city may not suffer by comparison with even the smaller towns of the state.

St. Paul the jobbers and manufacturers have taken up the matter in their various establishments, where hundreds of persons are employed, and the responses have been both gratifying and surprising. The contributions

KENTUCKY CRIME LAID TO INSANITY

Murderer of Legislative Candidate Remains Silent When Placed in Jail.

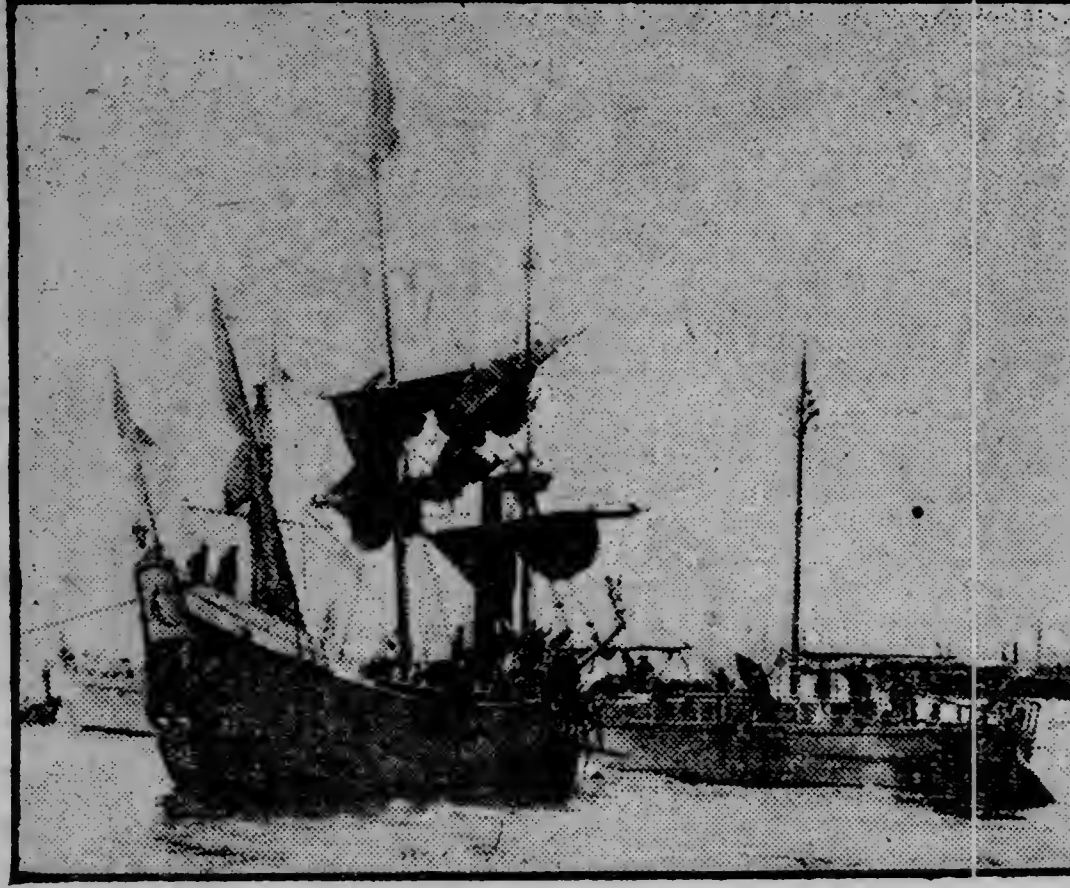

Glasgow, Ky., Sept. 30.—Morris Wilcox, who yesterday shot and killed John W. Montgomery, Republican candidate for the legislature, maintaining silence in jail here. The families of both men attribute the tragedy to insanity. The men were lifelong neighbors.

Montgomery had gone to Wilcox's home and had induced Wilcox to pool the latter's tobacco. After the parcels were signed Montgomery, Wilcox and another neighbor were seated in a room conversing when Wilcox arose and went up stairs. After a few moments absence he returned with a shot gun and when within a few feet of his victim, who was arch bridge in another direction, he leveled the gun and fired. The charge took effect in the back of Montgomery's head, killing him instantly.

Mount McKinley Affair to Be Probed and Banquet Called Off.

New York, Sept. 30.—By a vote of five to three, the directors of the Explorers' club have ordered an inquiry into Dr. Cook's assertion that he ascended Mount McKinley in 1906.

Commander Peary is president of the Explorers' club and Dr. Cook a former president. In deciding to look up the matter of Dr. Cook's ascent of Mount McKinley, the club decided to call off a banquet which had been planned in Dr. Cook's honor.

With the flag of the Peary Arctic club at her masthead, the little steamer Roosevelt, which bore Commander Peary on his quest of the North Pole, entered New York harbor today. It was barely daylight when the lookouts discerned the vessel off Sandy Hook, coming

NETS $1,250,000 IN SIX MONTHS

Steamship Company Is $3,000,000 Better Off Than Last Year.

Bremen, Sept. 30.—The financial report of the North German Lloyd Steamship company for the first six months of 1909 shows net earnings, less general expenses and interest charges, of $1,250,000, as against losses for the corresponding periods of 1908 amounting to $1,750,000. This improvement of $3,000,000 is due chiefly to the emigrant business to the United States. The second half of 1909, up to the present time, shows equally good business.

STRANGLER ON VERANDA OF HIS HOME

Little Proctor Boy Instantly Killed While at Play.

Had Placed Noose of Stout Cord About His Neck.

Slipped From Steps and Hanged Himself—Mother Is Inconsolable.

While playing around the house with his little brother and sister yesterday afternoon at his home in Proctor, Ferris, the 5-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Buchner hanged himself with a stout cord, which he had slipped around his neck. Death was almost instantaneous.

The accident happened on the front porch of the Buchner home, shortly after the dinner hour. The three little Buchner children were playing on the veranda and were in sight of their mother nearly all of the time. A stout cord had been tied to a nail on a porch post. On the free end of the string, a noose had been made, which the little fellow playfully slipped around his neck. In some unaccountable manner, the little lad went too near the edge of the veranda and slipped off. The cord tightened around

PARK BONDS DISPOSED OF

City Finally Secures Cash for the $50,000 Issue.

Park Board Has Good Use for Every Dollar of It.

Duluth's park bonds, which have been on the market so long, have finally been sold to Coffin & Crawford of Chicago at par, $50,000. The deal was carried through by the N. J. Upham company. The cash is now in the hands of City Treasurer Voss.

Big plans for numerous improvements are assuming definite shape, now that the means are available. Many of them have been discussed for months and years, but they have never amounted to more than talk or faint hopes.

A large part of the money will be expended in the purchase of more land for park purposes in all parts of the city. Those sections, particularly which are without parks will get a slice of the $50,000.

Playgrounds will be bought in West Duluth, the West end, the downtown section and the eastern parts of the city. Much emphasis has been recently placed upon the importance of securing inside plots for breathing spots and playgrounds. These sentiments have met the approval of the park board, and now that the necessary cash is on hand, no time will be lost in

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The annual meeting of the Children's Home society will be held tomorrow morning at the home, on Fifteenth avenue east. The reports of the officers will be heard and the work for the year reviewed. The regular election of board members will be held, and the annual meeting will be followed by a meeting of the executive board.

The members of the board have, during the last year, expended nearly $2,000 in needed repairs and alterations at the home, and in order that the public, and particularly those who contributed to the fund for alterations, may see the result of the work, a reception has been arranged for tomorrow afternoon at the home, when the entire building will be open to visitors. The interior was repainted, new ceilings were put in, the plumbing was overhauled and other needed repairs were accomplished. A very cordial invitation is extended by the board members to every Duluthian interested to call at the home tomorrow afternoon, between the hours of 4 and 6.

BOAT CLUB AFFAIRS.

The Formal Club Season Will Soon Be Closed.

The autumn is the most beautiful time of year at the Spirit Lake branch of the boat club and just now with leaves turned to the brilliant colors that are the gorgeous prelude of the winter's coming, this country home of the boat club is at its best. A country walk and dinner at the clubhouse or automobile parties to the branch are popular these days and an added zest is given, as the house will be closed after next Tuesday, Saturday and Sunday of this week the last of the week-end parties will be entertained and next Tuesday evening the last formal dinner will be served. The house will be open as last season during the fall and winter, but no formal club service will be maintained. A special celebration is being planned for next Tuesday evening.

A subscription dance by a number of the members was enjoyed last evening at the main house of the club. La Brosse's orchestra played. The affair was so thoroughly enjoyed that it was decided to have another dance next Wednesday evening. Any of the club members interested in arranging the affair are invited to take part. Last evening about 100 of the members and their guests were present.

ORCHESTRAL CLUB

Of Flaaten School Appears at Lyceum.

A large audience gathered at the Lyceum last evening for the recital presented by the Flaaten school when the Conservatory Orchestra club made its first appearance. In the numbers by this organization which is composed of many of the students of the school who have served an apprenticeship for several years in the juvenile orchestra, Gustav Flaaten, trained with great care and interest, and a number of professional musicians, careful training and a nice appreciation of the values of the selections was shown. The audience was highly appreciative and Mr. Flaaten is to be congratulated upon the success of his efforts. During the winter the orchestra club may be counted upon as one of the most promising factors in musical work in the city. The club was heard in six numbers opening with the stirring "War March" by Mendelssohn and playing "Festival Overture" by Nicolai. "Alt under him-melens fäste" by Svendsen, "La Cinquantaine" by Gabriel, Marie, March from the Symphonie "Leoneore" by Raff. In special honor to the late Governor Johnson, Tchaikowsky's "Chanson Triste" was played.

The other feature of the evening was the presentation of Gounod's cantata "Galla," which was given for the first time in Duluth. The chorus of sixty voices appeared with Miss Ruth Brown as soloist and the orchestra club playing the accompaniment. The number was directed by Miss Donna Louise, who has received great credit upon her, in the sincerity and dignity of the work done. Some dances by the children from that department of the school gave great pleasure. There was a solo dance by Evelyn Grey and a Parisian dance by Ruth Brown. An imperial court dance by eight little tots in the costumes of the French court, was particularly charming. Those who appeared were little Misses Evelyn Grey, Grace David, Hazel Hess and Margaret Mitchell, and Masters Perham Ellison, Fred Eaton, Happy Monroe and Golden Pollock. A reading "The Minuet" by Miss Louise Emerson was most happily illustrated by the little folks in the graceful and stately figures of the old time dance. There were piano solos by Miss Gertrude McCuen, Katherine Pearson, Florence Isabel Webb, Neil Brown, and Elizabeth Honigman. Miss Brown's number "Zigeuner Nocturne" by Poldini, was splendidly played. A violin solo of Correlli by Henry G. Lavick was enthusiastically enjoyed and readings by Miss Evelyn Morterud and Harry Wheaton were well received.

Miss Jean Poirier Speaks of Labor Conditions.

Miss Jean Poirier of this city, an assistant state labor inspector, was the speaker last evening at the regular meeting of the Political Equality club which was held at the city hall. Miss Poirier spoke of the conditions of women and children employed in labor circles in Minnesota. The speaker dwelt upon the great amount of attention that is being given to this subject through the American and the possibilities for better conditions within a few years. The local factory and laundry conditions were spoken of.

Dr. Mary McCoy, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

Rev. Robert Forbes to Deliver Sermon in the West End.

Of special interest to many West end people is the announcement that Rev. Dr. Robert Forbes of Philadelphia, Pa., will deliver a sermon Sunday morning at the Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street.

Dr. Forbes is well known to people in the western part of the city having held a charge a number of years ago in a West Duluth church and twice acting as presiding elder of the local district.

In the evening at the Grace M. E. church, arrangements will be made to have another speaker from the conference which is in session this week at the First M. E. church, conduct services. The name of the speaker will be announced later.

The club, which met in regular session last Tuesday evening at St. Jean Baptiste church, has been training the class in those subjects which every citizen should know. In a few days all will be ready for the examination for the first papers.

In the near future a class for the second papers will be organized and put through. The club will probably occupy new quarters in the new school hall of the French Catholic church on West Third street the latter part of October.

One object of the club in the future will be the discussion of certain civic improvements which are being made about Duluth. Much criticism has been made at the various club meetings about the manner in which some of the improvements have been made. The club will also probably take an active hand in ward politics this year.

RAILROADS ROAD TO BE AN AIR LINE

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and President Pennington Inspecting the Soo.

No New Information Regarding Exact Location of the Route.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—President Pennington of the Soo railway and a party of his friends, who arrived in this city Monday evening on a tour of inspection of the company's property in and about this city, were joined Tuesday morning by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, who was accompanied by several of the leading officials of the latter road. Considerable time was devoted by the large company of distinguished railway people in viewing the division terminals and Soo facilities in this city.

Interviewers were granted no new information with reference to the exact location of the Thief River Falls-Duluth air line, nor as to the reports of recent date that the Canadian Pacific Railway company has surveyed in the field seeking a route from this city to International Falls on the Rainy Lake river. The three private cars carrying the officials proceeded to Plummer in the afternoon, the point some miles south of Thief River Falls, where the Duluth line will form a junction with the main Winnipeg road.

Satisfactory assurance has been given that the construction of the air line to the Head of the Lakes will benefit this city greatly and that a commodious depot, extended trackage, etc., are on the program and not a few more families of Soo employees will make this place their home.

The line to Duluth will be an air line and as straight as the topography of the country will permit, regardless of the appeals of the various towns within the zone traversed by the road, that the line zigzag from place to place to accommodate all. Official and public announcement of the exact location west from Leech lake dam will immediately follow the visit of the Soo and Canadian Pacific officials to the Head of the Lakes.

TRACKLAYING BEING PUSHED

Great Activity Along Cuyuna Road By the Grading Crews.

Aitkin, Minn., Sept. 30.—The railroad contractors are making good progress on the Cuyuna iron range road and track laying has been started out from Moose Lake coming this way. It is twenty miles from that point to the new junction town of Lawler and the mile will be pushed right along toward Aitkin and the mines from there. The work will be done by a track laying machine and some of the contractors are getting a little nervous about getting their work out of the way before the big machine is on to them.

Grading in the west end is taking a great spurt with three steam shovels just coming onto the work. These have been taken across country together with a lot of equipment on the highway from Cedar Lake to the new line by laying their own track before them and pulling it up after it is passed over and then pushing it on ahead again. It is stated by one of the firm of Dale & Baumgarten that it will cost them $7,000 to haul the material from a gravel pit to the site of the road before a shovel of dirt is handled.

At the western junction a big grader is at work leveling off yard room and it is said that the road every thing is working favorably a wagon is loaded every minute and the train is in order one after another under the big conveyor.

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Blyss, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago, I was writing to you and I saw that right there was a chance for me. I arranged with him to take the whole outfit of about 2,000 caps, at 1 cent each. I got a little time to pay in, and went to work at once to sell them. I put up the price to 15 cents a piece and they sold just as well."

U.S. ARMY SALE A NEW FEATURE IN DULUTH

Fine Old Stock of Military Curios, Arms, Blankets and Souvenirs Attracts Crowds of Eager Purchasers.

Duluth People Quick to Take Advantage of the Bargains in Blankets, Sporting and Outing Goods.

A cross between a mammoth department store, an old curiosity shop and a United States army arsenal is attracting all Duluth to 18 East Superior street. In that store building W. Stokes Kirk has opened the most novel sale that was ever advertised in Duluth, a sale of United States army goods of all kinds and descriptions.

The sale is not intended for the disposal of cast-off junk. Not a sword, or bayonet, not a piece of wool nor a saddle bag in the whole stock but which has a definite use. To the lover of old army souvenirs the sale is a gold mine.

Mr. Kirk has been in the business for thirty-five years. He has permanent stores in Seattle and in Philadelphia. His traveling department, however, is his especial hobby and so in boxes he transports $40,000 to $50,000 worth of goods from one large city to another, opens a temporary salesroom and within two weeks reduces his stock to a few remnants. Back goes the order to his warehouses for more and by the time the next city is reached a fresh stock is waiting to be disposed of.

Where the Goods Come From. Mr. Kirk draws his supply from the various antique stores and arsenals around the country. He is able to sell them at such reduced prices because he buys by the hundred thousand and because he buys anything in fighting goods that anybody wants to sell.

Not long ago the government advertised 100,000 little yellow flags used in war time to designate an ambulance station on the field of battle. W. Stokes Kirk bought the entire 100,000 at 1 cent each. Then he had them all dyed and disposed of them to railroads for the use of flagmen, clearing about $500 to $600 on the deal.

Similarly when the old arsenal at Governors Island threw out 20,000 drum stick holders, W. Stokes Kirk corked up one end of the case, polished the whole, dyed it and sold each one of the newly made "candle holders" for something like 25 cents.

When John Wanamaker's son went over to Paris he invested $20,000 in old-time French armor formerly used in the army, but now discarded.

When the elder Wanamaker discovered the new stock he flew into a rage and ordered them all taken out. They were sold at a reduction and, as usual, Mr. Kirk was on hand to bid them in. They are now polished, with swords stuck through and sell for $15 each, a handsome ornament for any den.

How the Business Started. So far as is known Mr. Kirk is the only man in the world who has originated a paying business out of old army junk. He fell into the scheme by a curious accident.

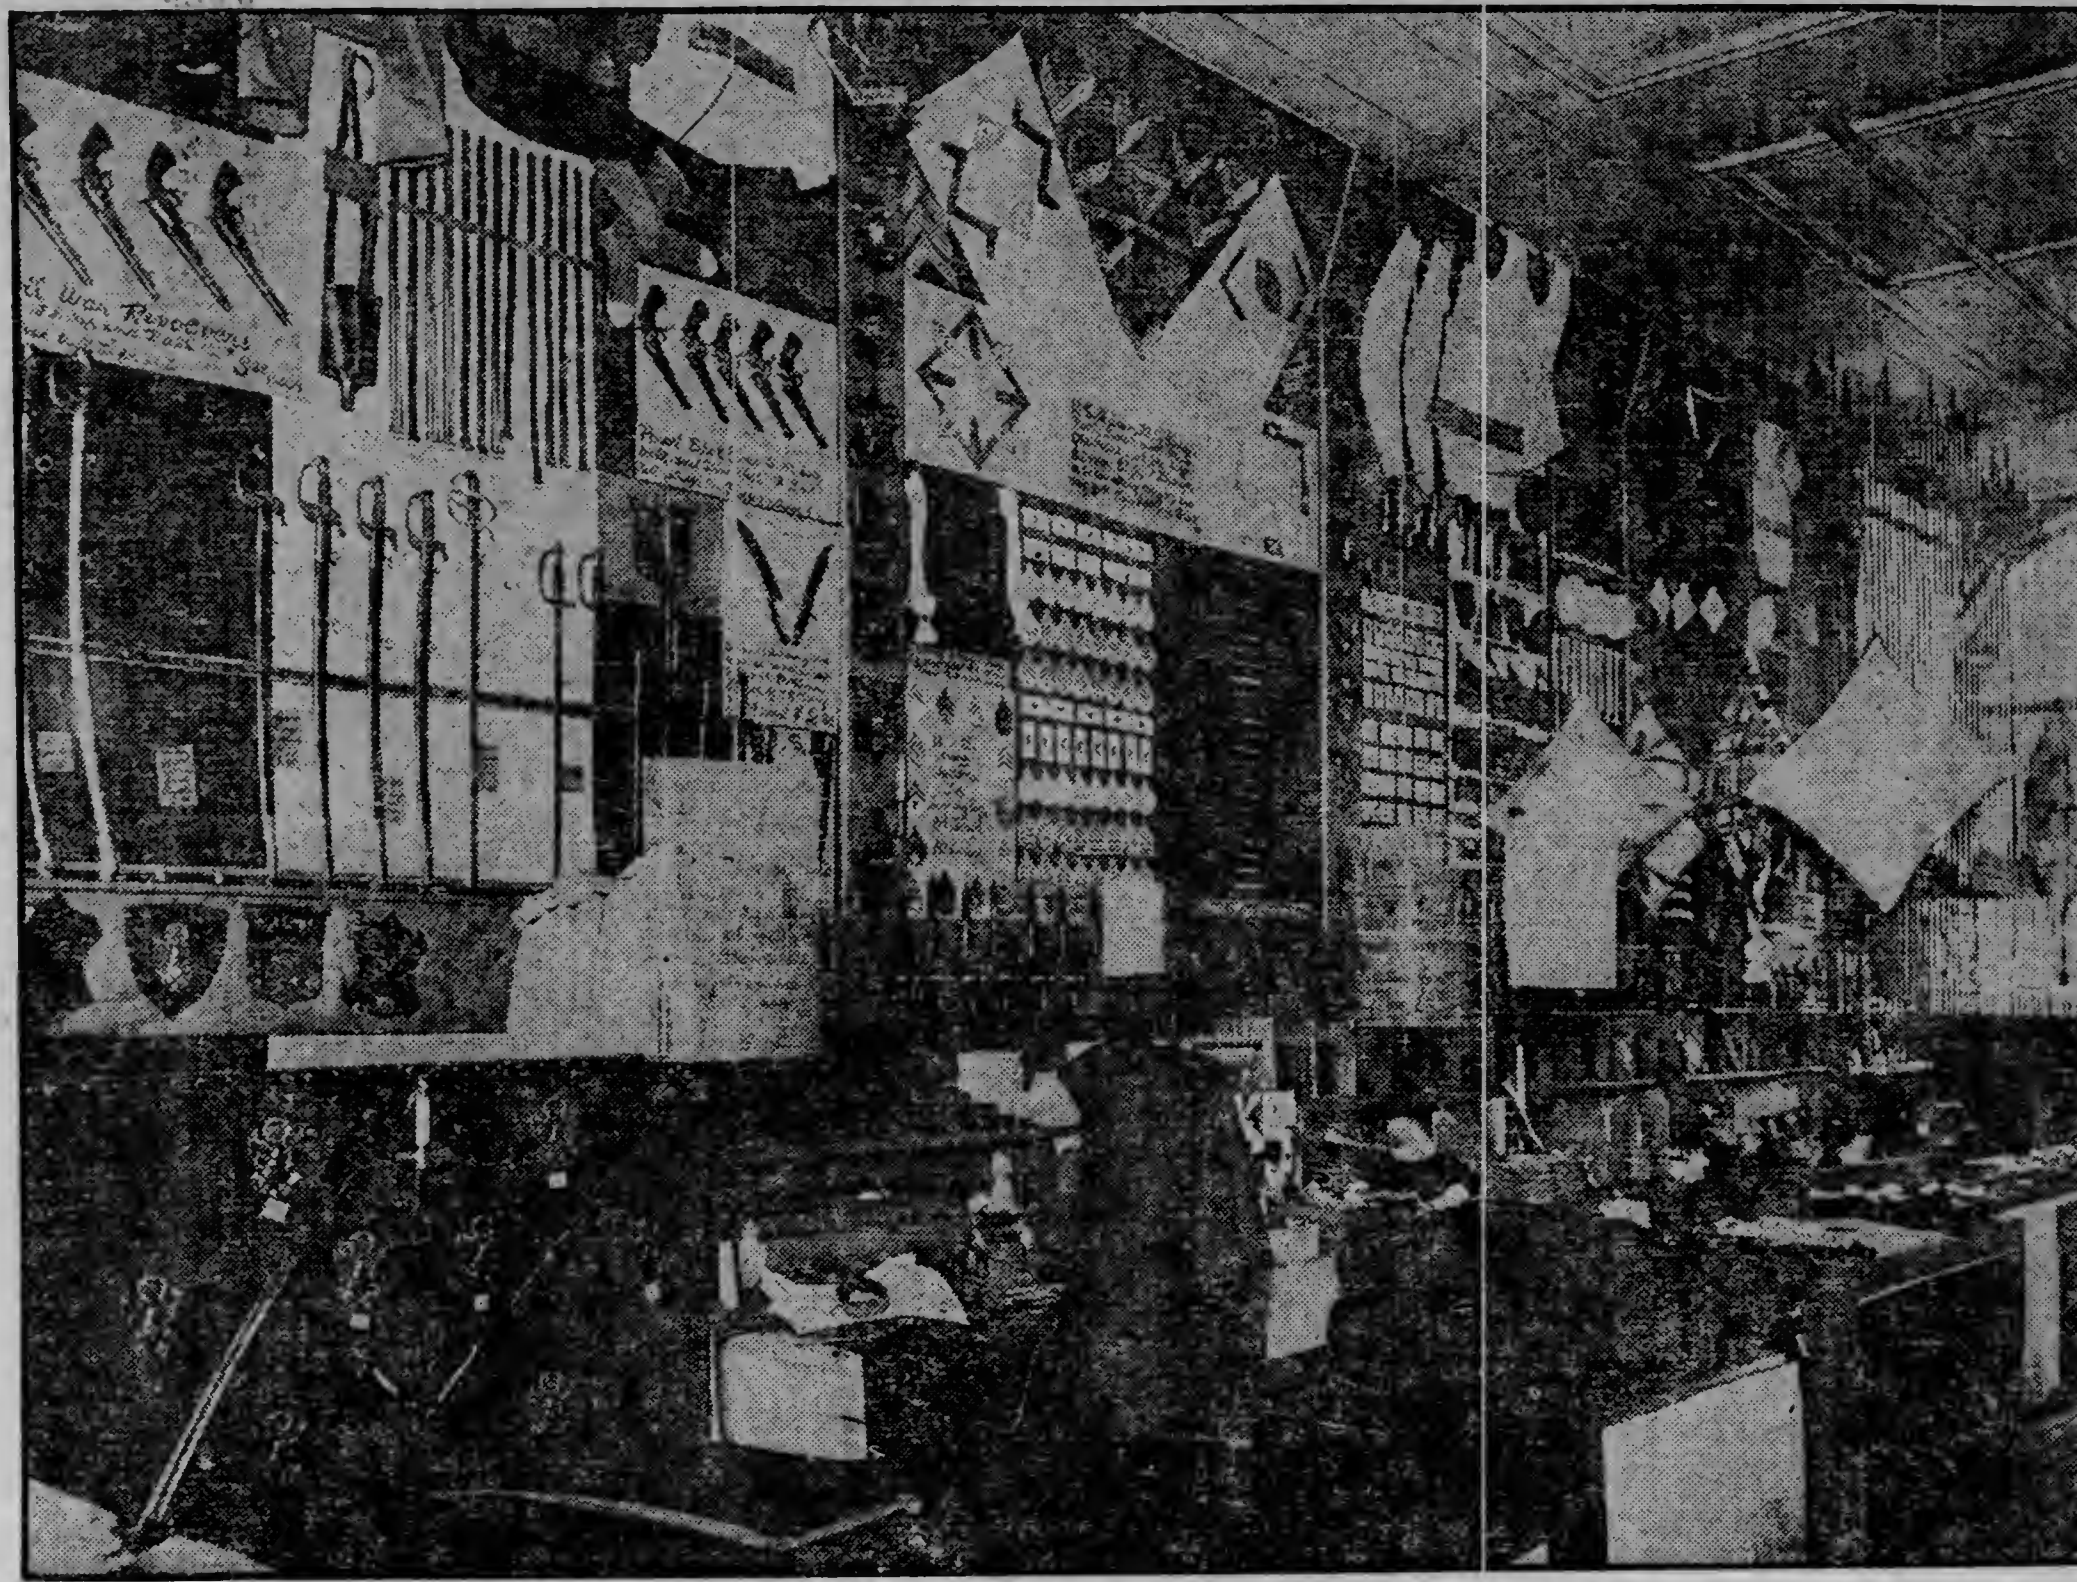

"I went into an auction sale one day when I was broke," he said. "The auctioneer put up some old soldier caps at 1 1/2 cents a piece. Naturally the people bought them in a hurry and I saw that right there was a chance for me. I arranged with him to take the whole outfit of about 2,000 caps, at 1 cent each. I got a little time to pay in, and went to work at once to sell them. I put up the price to 15 cents a piece and they sold just as well."

IT WAS A WILD NIGHT ON GARFIELD AVENUE

Fights Too Numerous to Count on Night of Mattis Murder.

Wedding Party Developed Some Aspects of a Massacre.

Adolph Suchacki, Joe Rebak, Frank Rebak, a stranger whose name is not mentioned, or any one of a dozen other men might have had something to do with the death of Adolph Mattis according to the stories told on the stand by the witnesses for the defense in the trial of Victor Matel for murder in the first degree, in district court. The defense will probably be engaged all day today putting in its case. For there are many witnesses. The different fights—and there were many of them—were being brought to VIEW ALONG ONE SIDE OF THE ROOM AT THE U. S. ARMY SALE.

partment interesting for a whole day. Probably the best values in the whole stock, however, are obtainable in the army linen and woolenware department. It has long been a conceded fact that army cloth is the best made and here are offered blankets of deep dark wool, guaranteed, stamped with the government inspection mark, and perfect in every way, at prices which would astound the shopper. Pure all wool coat shirts which cost the government $6 are being sold at $12.5. Navy blue cloth, 56 inches wide, which sells ordinarily for $2.50 a yard is here offered at $1.50. Canvas bags, government linen for towing;

Petticoats at 60 Cents.

Among the prettiest creations in Mr. Kirk's stock are the sofa pillows of which he has a number on them and for which he sells materials ready for making. They are constructed of army linen and decorated with epaulets and chevrons and the hat bands of sailors on transport ships now out of commission.

Now that army regulations have done away with the old blue flannel clothing of the men and have substituted instead khaki suits, and others of pale olive green, all the blue material is to be worked off and the sale is well supplied with fine cloth of this description which is being sold at greatly reduced prices.

A number of abdominal bands, made of flannel and so constructed as to fit together into a woman's petticoat are shown. Five of these bands at 12 cents each make a warm flannel petticoat.

The stock which Mr. Kirk brought to Duluth he estimated at about $40,000. Of this, about one-fourth has been already disposed of and every day sees hundreds of dollars worth going out in small parcels to purchasers who through the counters from early morning until late at night.

One of the chief display pieces of the stock is a rapid fire gun which is valued at $100. There are also lances used by the cavalry in the various campaigns and some of the old army flags.

Mr. Kirk has done a land office business since he arrived in Duluth.

On not a few pieces of the wearing apparel, such as caps and haversacks, the names of the men who wore them originally are still plainly legible. Although it has not occurred so far, Mr. Kirk fully expects that some day one of his purchasers will discover the name of some old ancestor and thereby come into possession of a remembrance almost priceless in its personal value.

One of Mr. Kirk's hobbies is his pay system. He himself travels from town to town as do two of his employees, who assist him in getting his salesrooms and in moving in his cases, but the remainder of his clerks he hires in the places where he happens to be, relying on their acquaintance with the townspeople to bring him much of his trade.

"I pay each of my women clerks $2 a day," said Mr. Kirk yesterday. "The men I pay $2.50. In addition to that every one of my clerks draws a commission on every sale. When they are employed I give them a list of articles on which they may make a commission. Some of the employees make as high as $5 a day besides their regular salaries.

"One of the best bargains offered here," continued Mr. Kirk to a Herald reporter, "is a ladies' long winter coat for $6. What is the sense in paying $35 for a coat when you can buy four yards of heavy navy blue, all wool serge, 58 inches wide, for $15.00 a yard? Those who can make their own coats can have a most serviceable garment for $6."

The sale will continue until Saturday night. The store is open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

W. STOKES KIRK.

scene of the alleged murder at the time it was supposed to have been committed.

Chased Into Yard.

She said that about five minutes of 2, Joe Rebak chased John Bourak into her yard at 616 Garfield avenue and pounded him. Her husband separated them and she saw Rebak walk across the street to the corner and join Suchacki and a man she did not know.

Rebak and the stranger, she said, walked up the middle of the street toward the north, and about ten minutes later came running back to join Suchacki. The stranger said the stranger said to Suchacki, "That fellow's got enough," and then they all walked down the street toward Backinoski's house. It was about five minutes later, she said, that somebody came to her house and said Adolph Mattis had been killed.

On the afternoon of the wedding, she said, Adolph Mattis, the victim of the tragedy, had called at her house to telephone. He told her at that time, she said, that Suchacki had been threatening him.

Mrs. Matel was positive in the assertion that on the night of the wedding, Victor Matel wore a dark suit of clothes. Her testimony in that respect was corroborated by John Kopenicki and John Bourak.

Adolph Suchacki was on the stand for a short time this morning telling of the fight he had with Adolph Matel. He said Frank Rebak chased Matel up the street and then he and Bourak left until 2 o'clock, and was among the last to leave.

The testimony at times becomes confusing on account of the similarity of names. As they are pronounced by the witnesses, Adolph Suchacki and Adolph Sykulski sound very similar. Besides those there were two others, Adolphs, Matel and Mattis. The surnames of the latter two are also confusing. In all there were five Matels, Victor, Adolph, Joe, Alex and Felix; two Rebaks, Frank and Joe; and many others whose names are not easily distinguished in the mass of testimony. It is expected the case will get to the jury some time tomorrow afternoon, as the defense will probably rest at the close of the session today, and the state's rebuttal is not expected to take a very long time.

Three witnesses told rather confused stories yesterday afternoon of the events of the night of the wedding celebration, which ended in the death of Adolph Mattis. All testified for the defense, their stories tending to show that Victor and Adolph Matel were not implicated in the killing of Mattis.

According to the testimony, there were fights galore. Former friends licked former friends and chased them up the street. Strong men left the wedding celebration with bruised and bleeding countenances and feared to return, for there was trouble in the shape of stronger men or greater numbers. Beer, whisky and wine flowed freely and the demon of intoxicated minds ran riot, they said.

Constantino Kopenicki was a busy man. He said he did not go inside of the house, but he was outside waiting around on the outside for his partner, William Deresz, who was taken home dead drunk at 2 o'clock. First Joe Matel's wife asked him to take Joe home, and he did, laying Joe away in bed. Then when he got back to the house, Alex Matel's wife asked him to do a similar service for Alex, he said, and he complied with the request. When going home with Joe, he saw two men chasing another, whom he did not know, up the street, and one of them clouted Joe one for luck, afterwards stopping and begging his pardon.

When he got back to Backinoski's after taking Alex Matel home, he said Adolph Matel and Adolph Suchacki were having a scrap, in which Frank Rebak took part to help Suchacki. Adolph Matel ran up the street with a crowd after him. Another crowd jumped on Victor, and he ran. Kopenicki said that he protested against fighting and somebody jumped at him, so he ducked into an alley, where he met John Bourak, a sorry sight. Bourak had come out second in a fight and had gone into the alley to nurse his hurts. They staid there ten or twenty minutes, Kopenicki said, and then went out on the street. They saw a crowd gathered, went to the place and found that Adolph Mattis had been killed.

John Bourak told a story that coincided with that told by Kopenicki. He saw the fight between Adolph Matel and Suchacki and shortly afterwards had received the beating that drove him into the alley. He told also of going out on the street with Kopenicki and seeing Adolph Mattis dead.

None of the witnesses seem to have a very clear memory of the events of the night. Everybody was evidently pretty drunk and there were so many fights that none of the witnesses seem to be able to give a connected story of any particular fight event.

MAN OF 60 FOUND BRIDE AT THE FAIR.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 30.—The recent Minnesota state fair served as the stage for one of Cupid's daring plots and the denouement came at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Henry Gallick, court commissioner of Ramsey county, united in marriage Mrs. Fannie Bulmer of Neillsville, Wis., and Joseph Brownlee, a farmer of Wells county, N. D.

Mr. Brownlee admits to a full three score of years and he and Mrs. Bulmer were school mates in the Wisconsin town. They drifted apart when Brownlee went to North Dakota and both married, but lost their first partners several years ago. The first of this month they met on the state fair grounds and saw the sights together. Then and there they decided to finish life together, as they began it when playmates at school.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed. No case of deafness is caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRKLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: OCT. 3.
Acts xxi, 27-39; Paul's Arrest.

THE CONNECTION.
The story told at Jerusalem about the achievements of the gospel was received with great joy, but—
The old question of conformity to the Mosaic ritual and ordinances was like a live wire at Jerusalem. James and the elders of the church reminded Paul of the prejudice of the Christian and non-Christian Jews against him. Many were now in the city who had encountered him in Europe and Asia, and would be enraged at sight of him.

It was suggested that he should show he was not opposed to the law of Moses by uniting with four men who had taken the Nazirite vow that was about to come to its period and assume the expenses of it. Paul consented to do it, simply as a matter of expediency. If it had been demanded as a condition of salvation, or if he could be interpreted as teaching such a thing, he would have died rather than do it. It seemed a wise thing for him to do, and especially since it was the God's method of finally showing the weakness of Judaism.

Paul and the four entered into the outer court of the temple, called the women's court, through the beautiful gate, and there paid their vows, and this aroused the rage of the Jews. They had seen him on the streets with Trophimus, and claiming that he had also brought the Gentile into the temple, they stirred up the excitable and bitter people, raised a riot and arrested him.

THE LESSON.
In Danger of Death, 27-30.
"And when the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude and laid hands on him, crying out, Men of Israel help! This is the man that teaches all men everywhere against the people, the law and this place, and says that he defiles this holy place. For they had before seen with him in the temple Trophimus, the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul brought into the temple. And all the city was stirred up, and the people ran together; and they laid hold on Paul and dragged him out of the temple; straightway the doors were shut."

1. The Sacred Place.
At the end of the seven days of the vow, Paul entered the court of the women to inform the priest that the period of the Nazirite vow was past, and waited till the offerings were made and their hair shaved and burned. These men had probably made this vow, to go without certain things for a given period, in gratitude to God for some favor. While Paul waited for them, his enemies raised the riot and seized him.

2. The Excitable People.
The whole city could be easily moved, because the people were out on anything that would keep them from becoming moved, and besides, Orientals are especially easy to excite.

3. The Excitable People.
They were infuriated at Paul because he was a cultured man, an aggressive preacher of the cross and a supposed rebel against the Jews and ideals. They were told that he had brought Gentiles into the temple they knew full well beyond all bounds.

They put place above the person. To destroy a man was a smaller sin than to defile a sacred place. For that reason they thrust him out of the court of the women, into the court of the Gentiles, and would have killed him instead of dragging him into the temple they knew full well beyond all bounds.

of their enemy at the time his blood should be taken. Shame!

Rescued By the Romans, 31-36.
"And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the chief captain of the band that all Jerusalem took soldiers and centurians and ran down upon them; and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. Then the chief captain came near and laid hold on him and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and inquired who he was and what he had done. And some shouted one thing and some another among the crowd, and who he could not know the certainty for the uproar. He commanded him to be brought into the castle. And when he came upon the stairs, so it was he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the crowd; for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, 'Away with him!'

1. Revenge Defeated.
They allowed their blindness to spoil their revenge, for they forgot that the castle of Antonia adjoined the temple area, and that soldiers were on the watch to see that the turbulent Jews thronging the city were kept from attacking the temple.

2. The Mistaken Captain.
The captain was, first of all, a Roman officer, and made it his first duty to suppress the tumult. He did this by taking the bone of contention into his own hand. That was Paul. Not in severity, but for safety. He had him bound securely with two chains. As between Jews and Christians, he was likely to be more favorable to the latter. We do not know his exact attitude of mind toward them, but it was one of scorn for the Jews, with all their ceremonial scruples, and of suspicion that Paul was a certain noted Egyptian, whom they had been trying to capture and who was at last brought to bay.

3. The Howling Mob.
The tumult keeps up, but Paul was protected. The people yelled and howled and more fiercely than ever when they saw the soldiers bearing him beyond their reach. Their shouts returned in a degree, so that they snatched at him in violence. He was led out into the wilderness, and the captain felt confident that Paul was that man, the Egyptian, whom they had been trying to capture and who was at last brought to bay.

tion with him that put a new look upon the business.

Paul's Defense of Himself, 37-39.
"And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek? Art thou not then the Egyptian who, before these days, stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the 4,000 men of the assassins? But Paul said, I am a Jew, of Tarsus, in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city, and I beseech thee give me leave to speak unto the people."

First—Paul's Consecrated Shrewdness.
Notice that at the earliest possible moment Paul begins to use his shrewdness to better his condition, and of all it make a plea for Christ. It is a cultured man. The captain had been too violent to attempt it. It was just as well as his ability to speak the Greek that he was not the Egyptian. He was a Roman citizen, as he goes on to explain more fully in the verses following our lesson. That secured him from all violence and made his persecutors liable to severe penalties. They insulted him when they mistreated one of her citizens. He was a Jew, too, and seemed to take special pride in the fact. He was a citizen, moreover, of one of the cultured and important cities of Asia. The captain, moreover, of one of the cultured and important cities of Asia. The captain, moreover, of one of the cultured and important cities of Asia.

Second—The Surprised Captain.
The captain was surprised at many things. Surprised that Paul was not that Egyptian whom he had along taken him to be. Surprised that Paul spoke Greek, for he spoke it as a cultured man. The captain had to be convinced by Paul's own statement as well as by his ability to speak the Greek that he was not the Egyptian. He was a Roman citizen, as he goes on to explain more fully in the verses following our lesson. That secured him from all violence and made his persecutors liable to severe penalties. They insulted him when they mistreated one of her citizens. He was a Jew, too, and seemed to take special pride in the fact. He was a citizen, moreover, of one of the cultured and important cities of Asia.

Third—Striking Results.
The enraged people drove him on. The soldiers were about to torture him, when his claim of Roman citizenship secured protection.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.
It is probable that in return for some important service rendered, or payment of money paid, Paul's father or grandfather had obtained this distinction, hence Paul received it by inheritance.—Dennis.

Examined is but a euphemism for tortured. To the present day in the East, from Turkey to China, it is a common, almost a necessary, accompaniment of a trial in order to extract a confession. In China the witnesses, too, are exposed to this savage treatment. It was the same among the Romans. Scourging was the mildest form of this examination. Provincials and natives had no protection, but Roman citizens were specially exempt, by recorded enactment, from the application of torture before conviction. No Roman citizen was to be tortured, and Paul, as Paul here was by things and manacles. He might only be chained by his right wrist to a soldier's left hand. This was called military custody, and was not considered to imply disgrace, but to fasten him with two chains was a breach of the law of citizenship. Any such breach would expose the officer or magistrate committing it to the heaviest penalties, while it was certain death for any one falsely to claim the rights of citizenship.—Tristram.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.
1. What is the difference between a concession and a compromise?
2. Why is mob work always wrong?
3. Why cannot religion be protected or propagated by unfair means?
4. When is it right to claim all of one's rights?

NATURAL GAS IN NORTH DAKOTA

Strong Flow Reported From Well on Farm Near Lansford.

Lansford, N. D., Sept. 30.—An exceptionally strong flow of natural gas is reported from the gas well being drilled by the business men of Lansford on the J. D. Bale farm, five and a half miles east of this city. The gas sang was penetrated at a depth of 180 feet and the force of the gas is forcing water and sand to the height of sixty feet above the ground. Pieces of lignite coal as large as a man's fist are being brought up. As soon as the water has been blown out of the well, an effort will be made to control the gas, which appears to be of excellent quality. This is the second gas well on the Bale farm. The first one got beyond the control of the drillers and gas is coming up all around the casing. Every visitor is cautioned not to light a match in the vicinity, for there is so much gas in the air that an explosion would surely occur. If the well can be controlled, the gas will be piped into this city at once.

CROATIANS WILL NOT RAISE DEATH BENEFIT.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 30.—There will be no change in the death benefit to be paid by the National Croatian society, but there are likely to be some changes made in payments for partial disability and minor causes. The decision not to increase the death benefit from $800 to $1,000, as proposed, has been reached by the busy session of the triennial convention of the society, in this city. The decision is a revision of the by-laws of the order.

TO BRIDGE MISSISSIPPI NEAR LAKE BEHMDJI.

Behmdji, Minn., Sept. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting of the board of county commissioners, to be held here this morning, it was decided to build a bridge across the Mississippi river at the junction of sections 6 and 7, township 146, range 38, and corner of sections 31 and 32, township 147, range 38, the location being about five miles east of the outlet of Lake Behmdji.

MAYOR HAS A NEW PLAN

Would Turn Over Manure From City to the Farmers.

Refuse Could Be Hauled to Hilltop Instead of Bay.

Mayor R. D. Haven suggests a new plan for improving the tarryy adjacents to Duluth whereby two birds can be killed with a single stone. He proposes that the manure gathered in the city be hauled to a central dump on top of the hill, where it will be convenient for the farmers about the city to get it. This will aid them, he says, in warming and enriching the soil and at the same time prevent the waters of the bay and lake from being contaminated by the fertilizer.

The mayor did not name any particular place for a dump, explaining that he has never gone down to the ground with this thought in mind. He recognizes that it would be more trouble to haul the hill than to dump it along the bay front, but believes that the benefits derived would more than equalize the disadvantages. There appears to be little doubt but that the farmers would welcome an opportunity to improve the value and productive powers of their holdings in this way. All of them make trips to the city with loads, and at the expenditure of but little additional energy could haul back a load of manure for their fields and gardens. During the busy season the fertilizer would accumulate, but the pile would undoubtedly dwindle rapidly as soon as the farmers got some spare time in the quiet season. The time is not far advanced when the bay front will be all taken by the industries, making it impossible to longer use the bay for dumping purposes. Another dump would have to be found, and it is thought that the mayor's plan could be worked out along satisfactory lines before the question becomes a problem.

MUST RUSH LABEL CASE

Government is Refused Further Delay in Suit at Indianapolis.

Be Taken Up on Oct. 11, Says Court.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 30.—Judge Anderson of the United States district court yesterday refused an application by the department of justice for a re-continuance of the preliminary hearing of Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, proprietors of the Indianapolis News, who are under indictment by the federal grand jury of the District of Columbia, charged with having defrauded the Panama canal zone by the United States from the two French companies. The hearing was continued last June until Oct. 11. The government today asked for a re-continuance until after the trial of the publisher of the Indianapolis News, on a similar charge, which is set for Oct. 20 in New York city. The application was made through Charles W. Miller, United States attorney for the district, and attorneys for Messrs. Smith and Williams, who are opposing their removal to the District of Columbia for trial, protested against further delay in the proceedings and the court upheld them.

HOME OF FOUR GOVERNORS.

Governor Johnson Was Last St. Peter Has Given to State.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 30.—During his term of office Governor Johnson attended the funerals of two former governors of the state, A. R. McGill and Horace Austin. Both of them were St. Peter men, so Governor Johnson was the third of the four governors St. Peter has given to the state who have died recently. The fourth was Governor Swift, who died a number of years ago. There are at present only six former governors of Minnesota living—Senator Knute Nelson, John Lind, L. F. Hubbard and S. R. Van Sant in Minnesota, W. R. Merriam in New York and E. M. Cough in Washington. The four first mentioned were pallbearers at Governor Johnson's funeral, and the last two were too far away to come here in the short time between the death and the burial.

The Folly of Using Raw Milk

Many careful homes have quit using raw milk. They are now serving milk without germs in it. They are cooking with milk twice as rich as before. They are saving half on their milk bills. Will you let us tell you why?

The demand for Van Camp's Milk now is so great that we milk 20,000 cows.

Yet we could not supply one hundredth part the demand if all people knew about it.

Do you suppose that people will buy germ-laden milk when they once find a milk that is pure?

Do you suppose they will ever again cook with half-milk when they learn how whole milk tastes?

Do you suppose they will buy milk from day to day when they know what it means to have a cow in the kitchen?

You won't—nor will any one—after once proving these facts.

A Germless Milk

Van Camp's is a germless milk. Every cow is inspected—so are the men who milk them. No tubercular cows, no diseased milkmen, convey their infections to Van Camp's Milk.

Our dairies are sanitary. Our creameries, where the milk is evaporated, are built without wood. We make a business of cleanliness.

Then the milk is sterilized after the cans are sealed. Not a germ of any kind can remain in it.

This milk is safe, and your milkman's milk isn't. There are myriads of germs in every drop of raw milk.

It is wrong to take such risks.

A Whole, Rich Milk

Van Camp's is simply rich Holstein milk, with two-thirds the water evaporated. Nothing whatever is added. Nothing is subtracted, save water.

Here you get the whole milk. Your milkman's milk separates. You either get too little solids or too little butter fat.

It separates again when you get it. So the milk used for cooking is rarely more than a half milk.

Compare one milk dish made with Van Camp's with one made with milkman's milk. Note the difference in richness and flavor.

That will be enough to forever convert you to the use of this whole, rich milk.

A Cow in the Kitchen

Then think how convenient. Rich milk or cream whenever you want it. No waiting for the milkman, no shortage, no waste.

Yet Van Camp's is the cheaper. It is as thick as thick cream, so thick that you add one part water for coffee. Yet it doesn't cost half your milkman's price for cream.

Add two parts water and you have rich milk. The cost of such milk, when you buy Van Camp's by the case, is about six cents per quart.

Then you have no waste—no milk left over. Sometimes Van Camp's cuts off half on the milk bills.

Think of paying the milkman twice what you pay for such milk as this.

Safe for Children

When you serve Van Camp's to your children you don't serve sickness with it. When you serve raw milk, you don't know.

Van Camp's has a slight almond flavor, due to sterilization. It doesn't taste just like raw milk.

Explain to the child that this flavor—delicious but different—means that the milk is pure.

Raw milk is just as unfit as raw meat. Pasteurized milk is the only safe milk. Before long, our laws will require it.

No Other Such Milk

Don't think of Van Camp's as condensed milk. Condensed milk is half sugar. You can't use it in cooking.

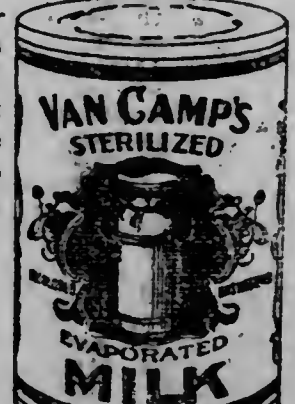

And don't think that other evaporated milks are as good as Van Camp's.

Analysis of Van Camp's shows about 8 per cent of butter fat. That's because we use Holstein milk and take out two-thirds of the water.

A milk with half of that water left in may be called "evaporated." But it won't be as rich as Van Camp's.

We are preparing for you the finest milk in the world. Please be sure that you get it.

Van Camp's Milk comes in 5 and 10-cent cans, at your grocer's. It is put up at our dairies, in five states, by the Van Camp Packing Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

ATHLETICS OUT OF RACE

Detroit's Double Victory Practically Cinches Pennant for Tigers.

Great Slugging Match When Tigers and Pirates Meet.

Detroit virtually cinched the pennant of the American league yesterday by defeating the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 0, in a game of the Philadelphia Athletics, was the defeat of that team by Charles Comiskey's White Sox.

Right now the Detroit champions are playing the strongest article of baseball they have shown the present season. It is also doubtful if during the two years of their tenure of the American league championship the Tigers have played such dashing baseball as at the present date.

Earlier in the season Detroit appeared to have a walkaway for the bunting. Closer students of the game merely smiled and cautioned moderation. They were right. The slugging Athletics passed them.

But when all is said, credit must be given to the Tigers for the way they have rallied when things were looking badly for them. They have shown a gameness and a pluck which many believed they lacked. Now they are the best team in the American league, and to the Tigers belongs the honor of endeavoring to lower the colors of the league.

It will be a great surprise, when the two teams meet tomorrow night, to find that Mullin, Summers, Killian and Donovan have been able to give the Nationals a great fight for the premier honors of the year.

TIGERS TAKE TWO FROM BOSTON

The Detroit Club Now Has Pennant About Cinched.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 29.—Detroit won both games of a double-header from Boston yesterday, the first 5 to 0, and the second 2 to 0, while Philadelphia was breaking even with Chicago, and Detroit now has a lead of three and a half games over the Pirates.

The visitors looked as if they were very capable of doing this, as two of Boston's most effective pitchers were driven from the box, and Detroit, outside of one inning in the first game, used but one pitcher. Killian's masterful work was the brilliant feature of the two games. In the opening contest the locals got two hits, their first being one coming in the eighth inning. Both on the offensive and defensive, the champions outplayed the home team.

They did not start in the second game until it was half over, but then they made the results sure. In the initial inning of the first game Crawford hit a home run over the right field fence for a home run with two men on bases, giving his team enough runs to win. Karger took a reliever's place in the second inning and did a fair work. Three passes and a single in the fourth inning gave Detroit its other two runs. The home players never looked dangerous. An unfortunate incident was the crippling of Stahl. He was hit on the head by a ball in the fifth inning and although not badly hurt had to leave the game.

After resting one inning Killian started the second game for the visitors, being opposed by Cloutier. Boston scored a run in the first inning coming in a row. With two out and a man on second in the fifth, a passed ball by Donovan hit left in a run seemed to unnerve Cloutier, and two bases on balls and four singles followed, giving Detroit four runs.

Two more runs came in the seventh on fast base running and another hit. Three batters in the eighth and ninth ended two more to the visitors' total. Boston scored one in the sixth on two hits and a stolen base. The run on bunched hits. They had many chances to rally, but brilliant fielding by Cobb and Killian's effectiveness stopped them. The scores:

AN ALL STAR BALL TEAM

New York Sporting Writer Selects an All-American Nine.

Five From National League and Four From the American.

The first selection of an All-American baseball team is out. It is not a team chosen from the ranks of the American league, as some might gather from the name, but is an aggregation selected from the supposedly greatest stars of the two major leagues.

The writer making up the team is from New York. That fact is to be observed in his selection of the team. Here is the team he believes contains the greatest fine individual players in the two large leagues:

First base, Chase, New York Americans. Second base, Collins, Athletics. Third base, Delvin, New York Nationals. Fourth base, Clarke, Pittsburgh. Center field, Crawford, Detroit. Catcher, Gibson, Pittsburgh. Fricker, Matthews, New York Nationals.

There are many who will doubt the wisdom of the selection of Chase, Delvin and Collins for the positions of first, second and third base. The present season and it is very doubtful if the greatest players in the two leagues are not Chase, Delvin and Collins. Lajoie are the greatest second cushion players in the game.

But the writer is not a fan of the two leagues, but a fan of the game. He will concede that the young California players are the best in the game, but he lacks both the experience and the finish of the other two men.

There is no question over the selection of Chase, Delvin and Collins for the positions of first, second and third base. The present season and it is very doubtful if the greatest players in the two leagues are not Chase, Delvin and Collins. Lajoie are the greatest second cushion players in the game.

But the writer is not a fan of the two leagues, but a fan of the game. He will concede that the young California players are the best in the game, but he lacks both the experience and the finish of the other two men.

TO PORT ARTHUR IN MOTOR BOAT WILL FIGHT ROAD'S PLANS

Dick Schell Will Enter Races in the Canadian City.

Richard Schell will leave for Port Arthur tomorrow with his fast motor boat, the Dingle Capital where he will enter the races which will be pulled off there Saturday. Mr. Schell will run his boat to the Canadian port. There will be considerable competition at Port Arthur for the Duluth boat but Mr. Schell does not anticipate any trouble in outstripping the other craft.

CURLERS WILL GET TOGETHER

Plans for a Larger Rink Will Be Discussed.

Members of the Western Curling club will hold their semi-annual session next Tuesday evening at the rink, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Bristol street.

Several matters of importance are to be taken up for consideration. It is planned to enlarge the rink considerably for the coming season, which is planned to make a particularly active one.

Just what the improvements to the structure will be, has not yet been given out, but it is thought that some conclusion may be arrived at, at the meeting next Tuesday. The club has been steadily growing in membership during the past two years and a large rink is needed.

If plans, which will be suggested, are carried out considerable money will be expended on the rink before the curling season opens this year.
